Casino project donates to ACHS

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

During a reception at the old Mineola Hotel, the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership donated $2,500 a piece to Antioch and Gratiot High Schools.

"We wanted to do something for the schools," said Bud Scott a Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership representative. The gifts were presented after local officials and members of the press were treated to a cruise of the historic Egyptian Lotus beds in Fox Lake.

"We very much appreciate it," said Antioch School Superintendent Dr. Robert Schley. "As everyone knows, we are struggling. The money will be put to good use."

Schley told the audience that the money was earmarked for new desks. Currently, Antioch High School is in serious financial condition. During an April referendum, voters refused to pass a tax increase which would have bailed out the school.

Fox River Limited Partnership has emphasized commitment to local schools. The Partnership has pledged a guaranteed $3 million donation to area schools if it receives the last riverboat gambling license in Illinois. The Illinois Gaming Commission is scheduled to meet on Aug. 23 to make a determination.

Riverboat casino on gaming board agenda

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The issuance of the last riverboat casino license is back on the agenda of the Illinois Gaming Board. On Aug. 23, the board will meet to hear all the applicants and presentations from opponents.

At this time, an actual agenda is not available. However, the meeting is expected to begin around 9 a.m. The board meeting will take place in Chicago on 100 W. Randolph Street. It will be held in the assembly hall on the concourse level.

There will be presentations by all four applicants vying for the 10th and final license. The sites in competition for the license are Elgin, W. Dundee, Antioch, and Moline.

The Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership will be providing free bus service from Lakeland Plaza in Fox Lake to Chicago for anyone interested in attending. Make sure to call early for reservations because only limited space is available. Call Laurie Jensen for more information and reservations at 973-2050.

Antioch rates in top 10 for unemployment

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

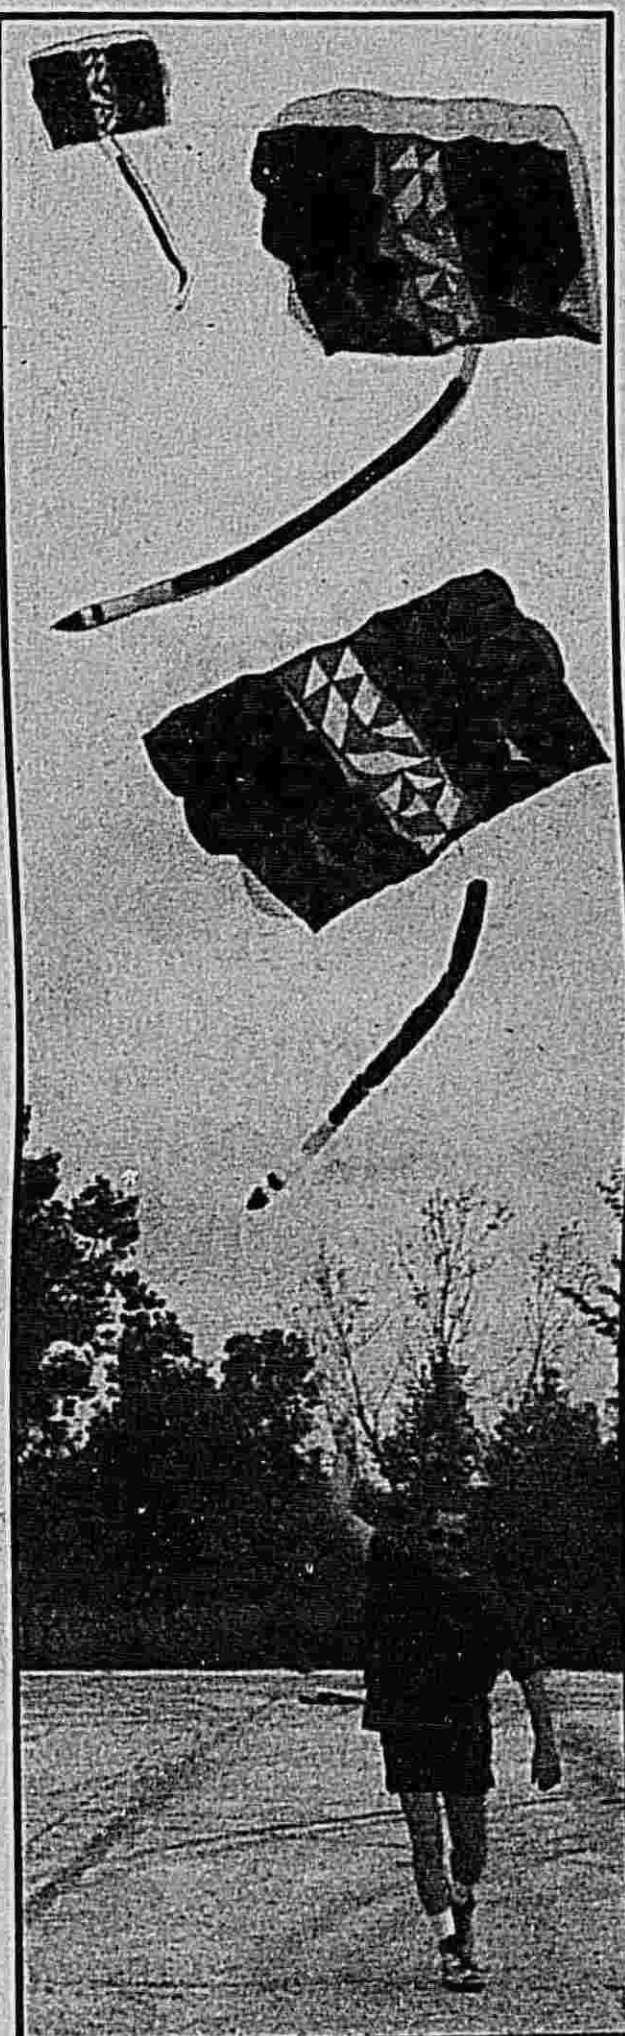

According to a document prepared by Lake County and the Illinois Department of Planning, Zoning, and Environmental Quality, Antioch's unemployment rate is one of the top 10 within Lake County.

The average unemployment rate for the county is 3.7 percent. Antioch and Round Lake are tied for the ninth highest unemployment rate with approximately 4.4 percent of the population unemployed. Topping the charts is Hainesville, with (Continued on page 46)

ACHS Pom-pons to perform for Bears

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

Pom-pons soaring to and fro, squad members kicking up legs and feet, and music - contagious in its beat, get audience members in the mood at the Antioch High School football or basketball games when varsity and junior varsity (JV) pom-pom squads are performing.

ACHS student Jaime Crank has got the whole thing down-pat.

A participant in the school's pom-pom teams going on her third year, Crank along with fellow squad members just brought back another trophy, ranking high, from a five-day conference at Eastern Illinois University in downstate Charleston. The event was entitled "Showstoppers Camp."

At the onset of the conference, according to Crank, different dances were taught to the several hundred Pom-pom squads from high schools all over Illinois, and some from Missouri. Then they had to be performed to perfection by the girls, in which they were rated by judges.

Twenty Varsity and 6-Junior Varsity members from ACHS gave it their all, and ultimately the Varsity received two "Superior" ratings on routines performed, and received a trophy for their efforts, and also a special show doll for being the most improved squad for the week.

At the end of the week, select members tried out for an "All-Pro" and "All-Star" team.

Seven qualifying members including Crank, received the honor of performing their routines during half-time for the (Continued on page 46)

Kristof's being sued by residents for loud noise

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Attorney Charles Wilson is one of 11 litigants who are seeking an injunction in civil court preventing Kristof's from operating go-carts. The public hearing will be on Aug. 13 in Waukegan. The plaintiffs also want $50,000 per person in damages, and the Sheriff to shut down Kristof's for one year. Tom Kristof said he is operating the go-carts legally; has and is taking steps to reduce the noise. The village will hold a public hearing on Aug. 19. Kristof's must seek a special-use permit to continue operating go-carts.

Village on record pace for DUI arrests

LAKE ZURICH—More than midway through the year, Lake Zurich police officers are showing a more than 25 percent increase in the number of driving under the influence arrests made. Village Prosecutor Jay U'kena said the police department has already made 101 arrests as of July 31, only 18 less than the previous high number of tallied in 1992. He said this could lead to the village issuing somewhere between 160 to 170 tickets, which would be a 25 to 30 percent increase from 1992.

Police officer suspended for improper use of gun

ISLAND LAKE—Police Officer Rena Jensen was suspended from the Island Lake Police Department without pay until further notice on Aug. 5 after a hearing before the Village Police and Fire Commission. Island Lake Police Chief Eugene Bach said Jensen, 30, has been charged with improper use of her weapon and giving false information to authorities who arrived on the scene July 13 after her gun shot Wauconda Fire Fighter James Johnson in the head in the trailer they shared near Wauconda. A hearing will be held before the commission Sept. 2 at 7 p.m. at the Island Lake Village Hall to determine if she will be fired from the department.

Ralph Davis fires his mayoral aide

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Mayor Ralph Davis fired his mayoral aide, Jo Garrett, because he said things just didn't work out. Garrett said seems to be a political move by the board. Garrett said she had no indication anything like this was going to happen. She was Davis' campaign manager in his successful bid to oust 20-year Mayor Carl Schrimpf. Garrett said she was working on getting federal flood relief at the time she was fired. She said she is unsure what she will do next.

Grant to provide flood relief jobs

WAUKEGAN—The County of Lake has just been awarded a $300,000 grant to be used for cleanup of flood damaged areas. Highway Commissioner spends $1,453 on trip

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—A trip by Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling and his attorney Larry Wilson cost township taxpayers $1,453. The expenses include $900 in attorney fees, $412 for airline tickets, $82 for Limousine ride to and from O'Hare International Airport and $59 for a taxi in Springfield. Board members and the audience were critical of the amount spent on the trip. Semmerling was down in Springfield at a hearing relating for underground tanks the state fire marshal has ordered to be removed.

Historic cruises return to Fox Lake

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

For the first time since the '50s, excursion cruises are available on Fox Lake featuring historic sights as well as rare wonders of nature, including the famous Egyptian Lotus fields. The cruise is a leisurely trip just chock full of fascinating historical facts.

The Lake County Riverboat Project is sponsoring free 90-minute excursion cruises. The boat will depart from the Historic Mineola Hotel three times daily on Thursdays and Fridays, and four times a day on Saturday and Sunday.

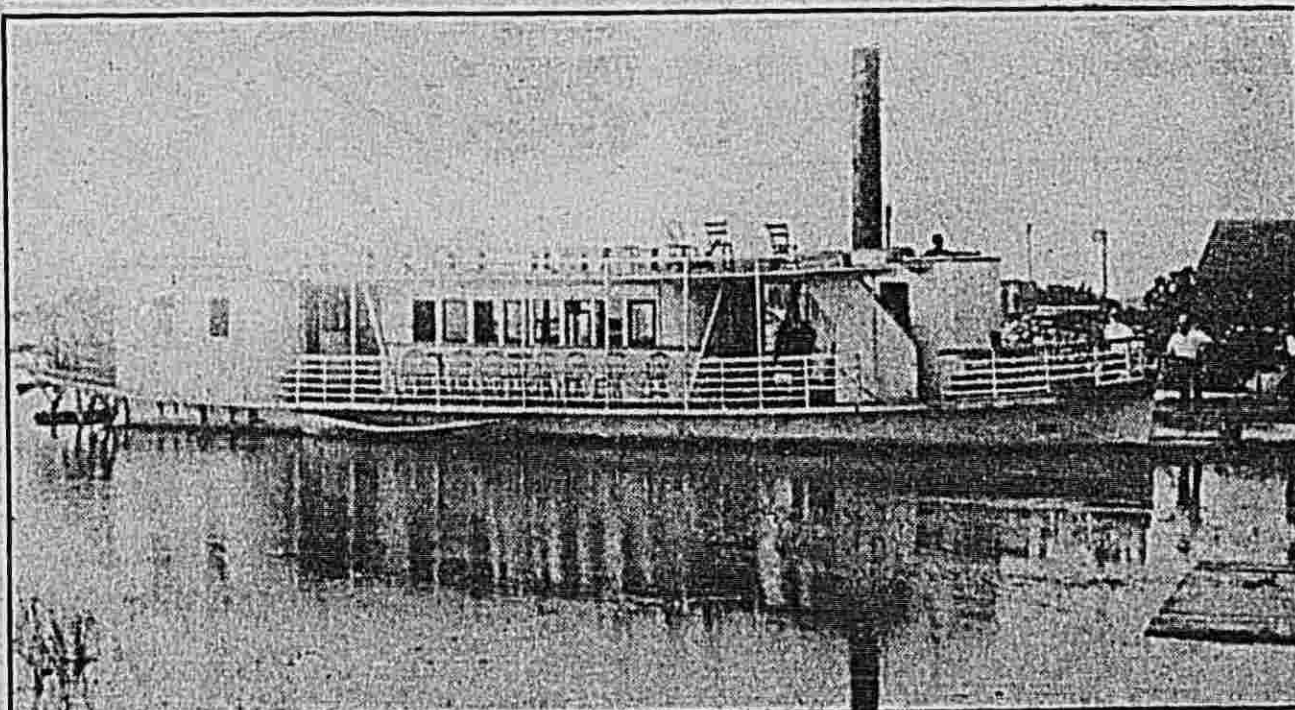

From the early 1800s to the 1950s, the original Mineola Hotel Boat Line ran excursion tours and transported guests. Around the turn of the century, the steam engine paddle wheelers were replaced with gas-powered boats.

Not many of the Lake County residents today can recall the sight and sound of vessels like the "Mary Griswold." This paddlewheel operated along with several other such boats on Fox Lake in the late 1800s.

The boat used for August cruises is the "Emmy J", a 32-foot, steel-hulled boat which can accommodate 30 passengers. The boat was the last regularly scheduled excursion boat on the lakes, operating until tourism dropped off following the Korean Conflict.

The cruises are designed to show residents and visitors alike some of the tourist attractions of the past. Visitors, at one time, used to flock to the Chain O' Lakes area. During that time, there were numerous hotels operating in Fox Lake. The biggest, however, was the Mineola. Peter Jakstas, owner of the Mineola Hotel has vowed to restore the hotel if the Illinois Gaming Commission grants the final riverboat gambling license to Lake County.

The Lake County Riverboat Project is offering excursions on the Historic Mineola Hotel Boat Line free through August. For reservations or more information about the free cruises, call 973-2050.

Cruises were plentiful when the "Mary Griswold" carried passengers from Chicago to Fox Lake-Antioch in the late 1800s. Riverboats like this one used to be commonplace in the successful tourism business of Fox Lake and Antioch.

United Way presents services at Care Fair victims, substance abuse and family counseling and many other services. They highlighted the services offered at the College of Lake County Care Fair.

people could come in and see what services are available, and where their contributions are going and being put to good use," said Faye Kater, chief professional officer and secretary at United Way.

For the first time, 42 agencies involved with United Way gathered in the C-wing main lobby of the college at agency booths supplying materials on the services they offer to the community. The event was sponsored by American Express, under the theme 'Without you... there would be no way.'

A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center, Child Serv, Epilepsy Services for Northeastern Illinois, Literacy program, and Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA), are just a few of the agencies that offer programs that are funded by United Way.

"This is one of our market areas, and we are trying to create better exposure so people can get the 'umbrella affect' on how United Way affects the community, and have a little fun doing it," said Terry Simmons, a volunteer on the board of United Way of Lake County and vice chairman of marketing.

"I think the other advantage is that people attending will see the programs promoted and provided through these agencies through United Way. Its a one-stop-shopping for people to find out what United Way is all about; the better people are informed on where their money is going, the higher the comfort area is on making donations."

Daniel J. LaVista, president of the college and CLC campaign chairman for United Way, expressed his satisfaction with the campaign on campus, "We're doing it here as a way of kicking off our idea on the importance of education. If participants can interact with representatives and get an idea of where their money is going, our case in raising funds this year will be strengthened. For those who attend who are potential contributors, it gives them a better understanding of where their money goes."

By giving to United Way, donors are investing in the strength of their communities. United Way funds 99 programs offered through 48 local agencies. One donation to United Way helps not just one but several programs.

The United Way provided several examples on how dollar amounts are used to fund programs. For instance, A donation of $200 provides emergency intervention to four youth in danger of entering the juvenile justice system; $150 provides emergency assistance like food, clothing, and shelter to four people; $140 provides money management skills to a family in severe debt, helping to prevent their entrance into the welfare system and $125 provides a week's worth of subsidized child care for a low-income family.

A donation of $100 provides four nights of foster care to an abused or neglected child. $80 provides one full day of comprehensive care for a mentally ill person. $60 provides immediate support and advocacy for a rape victim. $25 provides over 30 meals to a hungry family. $24 provides telephone crisis intervention to 8 people.

United Way will hold its next event on Sept. 7, at the Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort Kick-Off Luncheon from noon to 2:30 p.m. The event will begin the community-wide campaign, highlight corporate support, and recognize all pacesetter companies and corporate contributions.

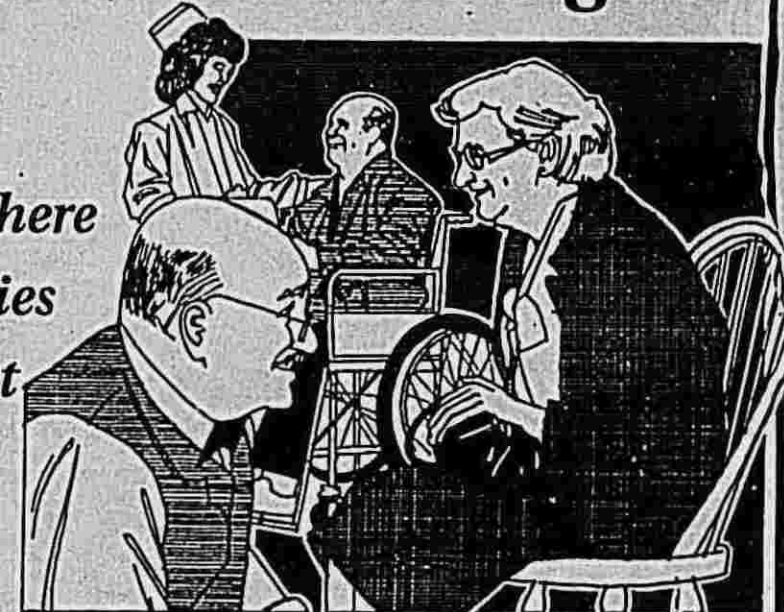

For additional information on United Way, call the United Way of Lake County Staff at 816-0063.

Gang Task Force pushes for rally to stop gangs

by ALEC JUNG
Lakeland Newspapers

The Gang Awareness Task Force, uniting four communities toward a common goal of gang prevention, is continuing to build steam and is planning a kickoff rally on Oct. 30 at the Lake County Fairgrounds.

The ground swell of support from Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst is propelling this massive rally to unite the communities in an effort to stop gangs. Organizers urge all charitable organizations and individuals join in the rally.

"We are looking for total participation from the Lions Clubs, Exchange clubs, Men's and Women's clubs from all four communities is support of zero tolerance," said Linda Bergin, a task force volunteer and coordinating member of (COURAGE) Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment.

"All four communities are a puzzle and if each of us comes together we can make a whole. The more the communities get excited about it and get involved the better it's going to be," Bergin said.

Bergin said she hopes such dignitaries as the governor, lieutenant governor, the Cook County and Lake County State Attorneys, Lake County legislators and parents from all four communities will come to the rally.

"There has been great support by the four mayors, police departments, park districts working for the benefit of all. The communities are getting behind the effort; at the last meeting over half the people there were new," Bergin said.

Bergin said the timing of the event fits in with the schools red-ribbon campaign against alcohol and drugs.

"The campaign fits in red-ribbon week which is big in the schools. It is the last part of red-ribbon week because the two go hand and hand," Bergin said.

The tentative plan is to have the event from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The parade and rally would be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The group is trying to organize a torch run going through the four communities prior to the parade. The parade route is also yet to be determined.

Part of the last full committee session was to discuss the goals of the three separate committees, prevention, intervention and education.

In the education area, the committee's goals are to reach all the area schools in the four communities. Also they wanted to reach out to communities and educate the citizens on gang activities.

"The committee wants to educate all the teachers in the communities, Millburn, Antioch and Grayslake, to teach them some of the red lights to watch out for. They also want to reach out to the community and the partnerships to educate them," Bergin said.

The prevention committee is gearing up to track gang activity and to do something to stop it. The hope is communities will share information of gang activities in an area with the other three communities.

"We want to put out the spark before it turns into a fire. We want to keep a record of the gang activity in one community and hopefully nip it in the bud," Bergin added.

Sergeant Kevin Klahs, Lindenhurst Police, said the intervention group is looking into having a graffiti rid program to monitor the type and identify the graffiti. They will also have clean up crews ready to remove it once it has been identified.

"There will be a central processing area that will take the information of all activity in the area. The police will send the information to the central tracking area and assign someone to clean the area," Klahs said.

Traffic woes continue to plague Eagle Ridge

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Residents of the Eagle Ridge Subdivision in Antioch returned to the village board Monday night hoping to reach an end to their continuing traffic problems. The Antioch Village Board is continuing to monitor the Eagle Ridge subdivision's traffic problems.

A petition was presented to the board several months ago requesting assistance in obtaining turn lanes, deceleration lanes, and no passing zones at the entrance of Eagle Ridge and Route 173.

Apparently, the asphalt work has been completed but residents now report that no right turn lane was painted in. According to residents, the road work was designed properly, but the striping is incorrect. Furthermore, a no passing zone sign was not put up.

While thanking the board for its assistance in expediting the road work, it now appears that residents find the "improvements" even more dangerous. "It is worse than it was before," said Joe Scully, a resident of the subdivision.

"The problem is for drivers traveling from west to east," said Scully. "There is a widening of the road for a right turn lane, but because of the herringbone pattern designating the left turn lane from the other side, all traffic is forced to the right. When drivers attempt to turn right, half of their car is in the middle of the road due to the line painting."

Scully reports a near accident last week when he was traveling with small children in his car.

Tim Wells, Antioch's village administrator will be touring the area on Thursday with representative of the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) to see if a solution can be reached. In the meantime, residents of Eagle Ridge continue to battle the dangerous traffic.

Appreciation

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and Trustee Mabel Weber were on hand to present awards to the Antioch's Fourth of July Celebration Committee for their great work on the parade, children's festival, fireworks, entertainment and sporting events.

Pat Sikorski, always willing to help schools

Nice People

My husband and I recently stopped at Pat and Patti Sikorski's garage sale to check out the bargains. As soon as Pat saw me emerge from our truck, he told me he may have some books to donate to Grass Lake School, following the sale, as per Cathy Milovanovic's recent suggestion via Hometown Goodies.

I would like to thank him in advance for his generosity to our area school. It is a fine gesture from a former parent, long-time area resident and also a former school board member. Yes, there are definitely nice people in this world.

Special Message

I recently received a phone call from Patti Brook telling me that little six-year-old Katrina had some special news for me. In a real quiet voice she said "Miss Liz, my mom got her new baby." Little Robert Scott was born at Lake Forest Hospital on July 28, at 7:02 a.m. He weighed in at 8 lbs 13 oz.

Dave and Patti are very happy about the birth of their fourth child as his birth rounded off the male versus female count in the Brook household. In the ladies' corner are Patti, 6 year old Katrina and 2 year old Molly. In the men's corner are Dave, 8 year old Nicholas and now little Robert Scott. Congratulations, everyone, and thanks for the tidbit, Katrina.

Old acquaintance

I enjoy talking to everyone who contacts me with news tidbits. However, I especially enjoy talking with people from the past. Sandy Ditzig is such a person. When I first moved to the Grass Lake area of Antioch, 25 years ago, Janet was very much involved with PTA and the school. Her daughter, Janet, was one of my daughter Donna's classmates. Her youngest child, Hal, was in kindergarten the year I worked as a teachers aide for the kindergarten class.

Sandy's reason for calling was to give me some helpful tidbits concerning my perennial flower bed. In talking with her I discovered her daughter, Janet, and son-in-law, Alex Dahmen, have an adorable baby boy named Brian, who will become a big one year old on Nov. 16. I also learned that Janet is expecting her second baby in March. It was obvious that Sandy enjoys being a grandmother very much.

Thanks for the tips, Sandy, and also the up-dated family tidbits. I will be waiting for your March call concerning the birth of your second grandbaby.

Don't forget
This Saturday, Aug. 14, is the registration date for the Camp Crayon Program. Registration will be held at the village hall from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. A $25 non-refundable deposit is required at the time of registration.

For further information, call Carol Todd at 395-2160 or Marie Brausam at 395-1236.

Accommodations

I recently received a phone call from Doris Erickson, a dedicated volunteer

Hometown Goodies

in the Antioch PADS program. Margaret Sisson, a long-time Antioch area resident and member of the United Methodist Church, had an unusual request of PADS. Margaret's son is a youth soccer coach in Duluth, Minn. and through him she learned of a Russian Youth Soccer Team needing overnight accommodations on their way to competing in Duluth.

PADS extended themselves and the Russian Soccer Team spent two nights at the PADS shelter, one night on their way to Duluth and one night on their way back from Duluth on their way home to Russia. Yes, "volunteers definitely do help make the world go round!"

The Five M's

During a recent conversation with Mary Elliott of Antioch, I discovered that they are "The M Family," Mary, Michael, Michelle, Matthew and Mitchell. I told Mary that my husband's cousins from Wisconsin are "The D Family," Don, Donna, Dawn, Darrin and Danny.

I inquired if she was originally from Wisconsin, thinking that naming all family members with the same letter could be a Wisconsin thing. She indicated that she was not but told me her dad had been. Since this connection was made, we decided this letter naming practice may be in the genes if you have ancestors from the Dairy State.

Incidentally Mary signs her Christmas cards "The 5 M's." I'll pass this on to our Wisconsin relatives. I can see it now "Merry Christmas to J, L, D, B, K and J from the 5 D's."

Theatre Time

This is the last weekend of the PM&L production of "Camelot." Due to expansion of the theatre, performances will be held in the ACHS auditorium on Aug. 13, 14 and 15. The Friday and Saturday performances will be at 8 p.m. The Sunday matinee performance will be at 2:30 p.m. The "Camelot" cast is Lori Jones, Kelli Finn, Mark Badtke, Larry Bullman, Kenelm Scheske and Guy Finley. The director is Deane Jones and the stage manager is Aileen Biel. For reservations and further information, call 395-3055.

Male?

My heart always goes out to the pets of the week from Orphans of the Storm. Along with a picture there is a short story listing all of the dogs/cats' special attributes in an effort to adopt them out to good families.

However, one of their recent ads made me chuckle, it referred to Brandy as a neutered male who was mostly border collie. It then went on to say "she" would do well in a home with a fenced yard, where "she" could run and play to "her" heart's content.

In spite of the gender mix up in the ad, Orphans of the Storm is an excellent animal shelter located in Deerfield that really goes all out to find unwanted, lost or abandoned animals good homes. If you are in the market for a special pet, contact them at 945-0235 for further information.

Pests

Help! Earwigs are driving me crazy, as they are extremely persistent in their attempt to take over my home. I clean and spray and spray and clean. I stomp and crush and even scream, but they keep on coming. We have lived her for 25 years and it has only been the last two or three years that I have noticed earwigs in the house. Can someone suggest an effective way to get rid of them? I tried the rolled-up wet newspaper remedy, however, it did not work for me.

I picked

Since no one contacted me with name suggestions for my new red and white bicycle, I decided to call my new trusty steed "The Lizard Mobile." With "White Lightning" being put out to pasture I could not wait any longer to name her replacement. If you see a "slightly" plump, middle aged (okay old) woman out and about on a red and white bicycle, you will know it is the one and only "Lizard" on the "Lizard Mobile." So, flag me down and give me a tidbit or two for the column. Till then, take care and be happy!

ACHS student returns from year in Finland

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

In Finland, "It's our responsibility to attend school," said Antioch High School foreign exchange student Kathy Holmes, upon returning from the northern country.

Holmes, 17, explained that the learning institutions for Finnish students are somewhat similar to an American college, in that freedom is given readily. Also, many times the young people don't always attend class, and homework is never given, but somehow they manage good test scores overall. The schools are thus "very liberal," said Holmes, accentuating on the 'very.'

Curriculum in the Finland schools usually consist of several languages including Russian, French and Latin. Fluent Swedish is a must. Holmes said that she speaks good Finnish, although she hasn't mastered it completely yet.

The Antioch resident went to Oak Brook as well as Grand Rapids, Mich. where she attended three different orientation conferences prior to the trip.

Upon receiving a letter from the International Rotary Club that announced she was not going to her first choice of Sweden, but was going instead to Finland, Holmes said that she became a little disappointed. But after she arrived in the country and stayed with five different host families, Holmes was glad she went. In fact, she called the trip, "excellent."

On the plane, Aug. 17, 1992, the student met over 100 others from around the country, including Mexico and Canada, who were exchange students on their way to Finland also.

After the 17-hour trip, Holmes said she and the other students were exhausted, but they had to attend a language camp which went on for four days.

The people in Finland, noted Holmes, are very shy and reserved; and the food was good - lots of potatoes and fish were served. Also, coffee breaks were plentiful throughout the day.

The women of Finland are usually very independent and hardworking, said the student. Most of the mothers of the different host families where Holmes stayed, were employed outside the home.

While staying in Finland, the student visited several close countries where she purchased lots of items that she took back with her. In Russia she was able to buy an officers army cap; while in Sweden, where she went on three different occasions, she bought lots of books. In Lapland, a little northern Scandinavian area made of very nature-oriented people within a "tribe" or clan, Holmes said she brought back a lot of their famous little hats of many hues.

On July 13, Holmes flew back to the United States, and within the next few weeks, she will be the one playing host to two Finnish people that she met while on her stay. She plans to bring the northern couple to Chicago, where they can visit the different sites.

Rescue call

Antioch police reported on Aug. 9 at 4 p.m., they received a call from a woman living on Highland Ave. in the village who told them that her young step-son had been playing in a tree alone, and fell 3 to 4 feet from the ground. According to the woman, when he slipped from the tree, a nylon rope got caught around his neck. The step-mother said that she untangled the rope from the child's neck. Police notified rescue squads immediately, who went to the scene. When police arrived, the officer said that he noticed redness around the child's neck.

Unlawful possession

Antioch police reported on Aug. 9 at 11:14 p.m., they arrested two men ages 20 and 19 after they were notified by a Taco Bell employee at Rte. 173 in Antioch, that a car with two young men who appeared to be minors, pulled up to the drive-up window with opened cans of beer. Police said that they arrived at the scene as the offenders were pulling out of the Taco Bell lot and onto Rte. 173 heading northbound in a 1992 red Chevrolet Geo. Police followed the vehicle and ran a check on the registration, and found that it did not match the red Geo, but instead belonged to a 1985

Buick Coupe. The officer pulled over the vehicle and when he reached the offender's car, noticed a strong odor of alcohol, and saw a foaming puddle of liquid seeping out from under the seat. The officer asked what the spill was, and the passenger produced two cans of beer from under his seat. Police transported the two to the station where they were issued citations for illegal possession of alcohol by minors; and the driver was also cited for illegal transpiration of alcohol and improper use of registration. Both were released on $75.00 recognizance bonds with a court date pending for Sept. 1993.

Meat vendor

Antioch police reported on Aug. 6, a complainant who refused to give his name to police, stated that there was a man with a truck selling frozen meats door-to-door in the village Victoria Road area.

Police located a gray pickup truck with a sign that read "Five Star Gourmet Meat Co. Inc." on the door of the vehicle, at Victoria Rd. and Wilton Drive. Police talked to driver of the vehicle, John Wilkins, Jr., 30, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and he stated to officers that he was unaware of the village ordinance pertaining to peddling. Police escorted Wilkins to the village hall where he declined to purchase a permit for $50.00. Wilkins was warned by officials not to sell door-to-door anymore.

Filing begins for local school board candidates

Filing will be held
Aug. 16 to 23

With terms expiring for 19 school board members in local schools, candidates will be filing petitions for open spots between Aug. 16 and Aug. 23. Candidates must be registered voters in the district for at least one year and cannot hold any elected governmental post.

In District 117, Antioch Community High School the term of four board members will expire. Seats held by Ted Axton, Alice Gantar, Glen Moore, and Larry Peterson will expire. Only Peterson plans to file.

Axton, who does not intend to return to the board expressed a hope that candidates with a balanced viewpoint will be elected.

"I am very concerned that we have quality candidates with a balanced view," said Axton. "We need people who have a concern for education, students and taxpayers. Not candidates with a singular myopic view point." Axton worries that however outwardly appealing the idea of lowering taxes may be, this district's teachers and administrators are among one of the lowest paid in the area.

Critics often charge that the problem with the high school's budget is the bulk of it is primarily salaries. Axton counters, "The reason for this is the very fact that there was fiscal responsibility. The district did not do any borrowing or building."

There are four seats expiring on District 34's board. District 34 includes Antioch

Grade School, Antioch Upper Grade School, W.C. Petty Elementary, and Oakland Grade School. The board seats set to expire are Bruce Jablonski's, Karen Lueck's, Gary Burnette's, and Dr. Earl Newton's. It is not known at this time if any of them are planning to file.

According to school officials, only two board members Bruce Dille and Deborah Diemer will remain on the Emmons School Board in District 33. Richard Ruck, Louis Korom, Janet Quift, James Koppa, and Marcia Bennecke whose seats are expiring, are not expected to return.

At Grass Lake School, District 36, four seats will be open this year. Terms expiring are those of Cynthia Marquart, John Fleshman, Sally Hiller, and Elizabeth Schmehl. Schmehl and Marquart are planning to run again this year. Hiller and Fleshman were not available for comment.

"I am rerunning because I enjoy serving the community in this manner. All of my four children were educated at Grass Lake School," said Schmehl. "I feel a great bond with the school. I am looking forward to working with the board and the superintendent."

Schmehl reports that at this time, Grass Lake School is not experiencing any financial problems. She did caution, though, "Knock wood."

Marquart is hoping to return to the board. "I see a lot of positive changes," Marquart said. "I would like to see them continue."

Since the official filing will not occur until Aug. 16, it is possible for any of these incumbents to change their minds.

One man gang vows war against Rte. 53

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Striding to a rise overlooking a small lake surrounded by cattails and marsh grass, Andy Bitta pointed to the ground and declared:

"This is it. This is the centerline of Rte. 53. Can you imagine a tollway being built through here, destroying these wetlands?"

An avowed opponent of the extension of Rte. 53 through central Lake County, Bitta is no environmental kook.

The gray-haired resident of Hawthorn Woods is an educator and coach. He serves as a trustee of the sprawling residential community located between Lake Zurich and Mundelein. He has learned all about the importance of wetlands and their ecological role.

"This is a pristine wetland, a priceless environmental treasure," declared Bitta, who is one of two deans at Main South High School, Park Ridge.

Bitta and his wife reside in an attractive low-slung ranch home on a cul de sac. He described the well manicured lawn on the edge of an open field as a "war zone," where the proposed expressway, for which plans were turned over recently by politicians to the Illinois Tollway Commission.

"This is our home and I don't want to move. I'm an old man and I've got cancer, but I'm going to fight Rte. 53 every way I can."

Bitta said he is part of a Hawthorn Woods village board majority that solidly backs wetlands preservation. He named his colleagues as Trustees John Clery, Robert Achille, Tom Beveridge and Sharon Comomilas.

The outspoken school teacher is brimming over with strategies to combat the proposed highway connecting the current terminus at Lake-Cook Rd. to a point south of Grayslake that will link up access to Rte. 120 and the Northern Illinois Tollway.

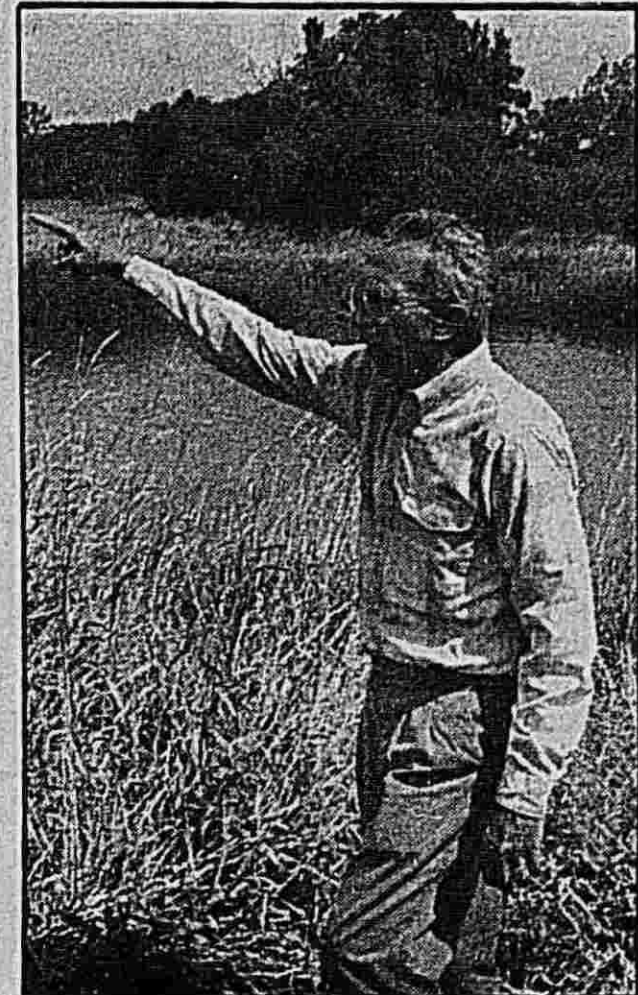

Hawthorn Woods residents fighting electric high lines are going to combine forces with Long Grove residents opposed to Rte. 53, pooling manpower and financial resources, according to Bitta.

Bitta envisions student groups interested in ecology and the environment forming an organization to adopt the wetland off Gilmer Rd. known as Indian Creek. All but 10 acres owned by the Village of Hawthorn Woods is in private hands. Indian Creek is fed by Sylvan Lake and runs diagonally in a southeasterly direction through parts of Vernon Hills, Long Grove and Lincolnshire to connect with the DesPlaines River at a point south of Rte. 22.

"It's a huge watershed, one of the biggest in the county," Bitta explained.

Pointing out a swan on the opposite side of the open water, Bitta lamented, "We can't lose this. This is why we built our homes here, searching for peace and quiet." The only break in silence was a breeze and the occasional chirp of a bird.

The embattled village official says he's not alone. "We're just beginning to fight," Bitta declared somewhat wistfully.

Schroeder scholar, 18, eyes career as newsman

Writing editorials and producing a newspaper column is the professional goal of the 1993 recipient of the M.R. Schroeder/Lakeland Newspapers Communications Scholarship.

Winners of the grant for full year's tuition, fees and books at College of Lake County are second year students who qualify by academic achievement, exemplary character and a desire to enter the field of print journalism upon receiving a bachelors degree.

This year's winner, Sam McKee, who held down two jobs, volunteered at a homeless shelter and served as a youth counselor while attending CLC full-time his first year in college was described by one of his instructors as an "All American boy."

McKee, a 1992 graduate of Antioch High School, is the son of Robert and Kathleen McKee of 446 Birchwood Dr., Antioch.

"I can't think of a more worthy recipient for the scholarship established in the memory of our founder," exclaimed William H. Schroeder, president and publisher of the 14 community newspaper group serving Lake County. The grant was established by Lydia M. Schroeder in honor of her late husband, a newspaper publisher and banker in Lake County for 50 years.

"Sam is serious about making a career in the newspaper field. He has a great start and has the necessary family support.

Kathleen McKee joins son Sam McKee in accepting the Schroeder/Lakeland Newspapers Communications Scholarship from Publisher Bill Schroeder.

I know he'll be a success in his chosen field," added Schroeder.

McKee became interested in news writing while on the staff of the Tom Tom, award-winning student newspaper at Antioch High. "I got to do everything, but I liked reporting the best. I'd like to get a newspaper position some day where I'll be able to write editorials and a personal column," the lanky college student remarked.

As an editorial writer and columnist, Sam said he feels he can be an influence on public opinion and help make the world a better place.

McKee hasn't yet made up his mind where he'll attend college, but he has an excellent role model in an older brother, Bob, who has a communications degree from Eastern Illinois University and now is a staff reporter for a daily newspaper in Texas. Sam also has an older brother, Jim Borsch of Lake Villa, and a married sister, Laura, who resides in Spring Grove with her husband and two small children.

"Receiving the Schroeder scholarship is a great boost for me," declared Sam. "Now I won't have to do outside work. I can concentrate on my studies and working on the CLC Chronicle."

Because of a full schedule his freshman year, Sam was able to write only one article for the Chronicle, but it won an award in a student newspaper contest.

Besides school, Sam worked at a pre-school and at the Wilmot Mountain ski rental shop. Beside skiing, he enjoys swimming and his youth work. He also attends St. Benedict's Abby services and is active in the North Chicago Seven Day Adventist Church.

Mrs. McKee, who is a CLC graduate is employed as a medical transcriptionist at Midwest Regional Medical Center, Zion, said the scholarship will ease financial burdens on the family intensified by her serious kidney ailment. She is a candidate for a kidney transplant.

Sam's father is employed as a product manager for a Japanese press manufacturing concern headquartered in Lombard.

Motorcycle collision hurts two

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

Repercussions of a rear-end collision, involving two motorcycles heading south on Wilson Road in Ingleside, include sending both riders to different hospitals with massive injuries, over the weekend.

Neither Michael Jakacki, 32, of 811 Oakwood Drive; or Richard Murray, 26, of 1427 Williams Road, both of Round Lake Beach, were wearing helmets as both headed south on the street, just north of Rte. 134, reports stated.

They collided after Murray attempted to make a right turn on his 1990 Harley-Davidson Sportster, into El-Jo's Harbor Inn at 35260 N. Wilson Rd., when Jakacki, operating a 1976 Kawasaki 750, apparently ran into the rear of Murray, according to Lake County Sheriff's reports.

"All I knew is that I got hit and wound up in the hospital," said Murray from his room at the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry.

Murray said that he has no idea when he will be released from the hospital for injuries incurred from the 3 p.m. Aug. 6 accident; and he noted suffering from a broken collar bone, and hip, ankle, and tail-bone fractures, as well as stitches to his face.

Jakacki was transferred to the Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital in Milwaukee, Friday, and according to a hospital public relations representative, he is in serious, but stable condition as of Wednesday, and is scheduled for surgery next week, for multiple facial fractures.

Missing boater identified

by SPENCER SCHEIN
Lakeland Newspapers

A body recovered in Lake Michigan last weekend was positively identified by Wisconsin officials as being Michael Cherhavy III, 45, of Barrington, one of three men that had been reported missing after a fishing trip late last month.

Capt. Louis A. Vena of the Kenosha County Sheriff's Department said an autopsy was conducted on Aug. 7 immediately after the body was recovered by U.S. Coast Guard searchers. Through dental records provided by a Lake Geneva dentist on Aug. 10, they were able to identify the man as Cherhavy.

Vena said the body had been badly decomposed after being submerged for a little more than one week since the boat was reported missing July 29 when Cherhavy, his son, and a friend failed to return from a fishing trip.

Cherhavy was still wearing a life jacket when the searchers recovered his body at 10:30 a.m. after a boater had reported a body floating in the lake 38 miles northeast of Kenosha at around 7:30 a.m. the same morning.

The body of Christopher Cherhavy, 19, of Atlanta, had been recovered July 30 at 7:05 p.m. five miles northeast of Kenosha Harbor.

Both men died of hypothermia and drowning.

Vena said the two men did not suffer any other injuries, according to the Kenosha County Medical Examiner.

Year of calamity

New tax law to smother U.S. economy, eclipse historic flood.

As the flood waters of the Mississippi River slowly recede, America is coming face to face with another calamity, the greatest tax increase in U.S. history, the so-called Deficit Tax Reduction Bill.

The crown piece of the Clinton administration, the new tax proposition is giving indications of stopping job creation dead in its tracks, stifling small and medium-size businesses and crushing incentive for the most productive segment of the American economy, middle class business persons and professionals, citizens with an entrepreneurial spirit and the double income families responsible for productivity of goods and services.

According to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, what Democrats in Congress have given us is a murky plan to reduce future deficits by $500 billion largely by raising top bracket income taxes, defense spending cuts, about a $50 billion cut in Medicare payments, minimal capping of discretionary spending, a 4.3 cent-a-gallon gasoline tax and lower debt interest payments.

Opponents in this locality of Rte. 53, handed to us by our political leaders as a future, and the prospective issuing of a riverboat casino license for the upper Fox River, might challenge opinion as to which is more calamitous.

It's arguable, though, that while flood waters recede, and that the intrusions of riverboat gambling and more tollway traffic on Lake County's lifestyle can be made livable, taxes go on forever.

Much too little was made of the similarity between the 1993 tax proposition and the failed 1990 tax hike, the major difference being the five-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax foisted on the nation three years ago.

With confidence in the economy waning in both the business sector and consumers, now the specter of inflation is looming because of the drop in productivity and the calls of liberals for easier money. Oddly enough, the inhibiting effect of higher taxes is the major roadblock to a repeat of the runaway inflation accompanying the last Democrat in the White House.

While efforts of local political leaders to create jobs and promote prosperity frequently run into criticism, the policies of far too many national leaders appear to be courting the opposite—less prosperity and fewer jobs. So far, the year to date of 1993 has, indeed, been a Year of Calamity.

Bar owners responsible for drunken drivers

by MARY CUSKER

On the day after Christmas, 1992, my children and I were trying out our new skates at Warren Township Park.

At 5 p.m., en route home, we turned west on Gages Lake Rd. from Almond Rd. I reached a crest in the road and could see a car in the oncoming lane going extremely fast hit the car in front of him and bounce into my lane. I jerked the wheel and got the car onto the road's shoulder. The oncoming car struck the side of my car, drove all the way down the side of my car (causing $9,000 in damage) and drove off.

My children and I were left in shock, in silence, and in fear. What seemed to be an eternity of screeching metal, blinding light and screaming children had ended. Another moment of eternal silence was broken by C. Jay's voice filled with terror, "Mom, am I bleeding?"

I am a person who can see the ball coming and still get hit. I don't know what made me pull my car off the road. One month later, a teenager did not have that same reaction. On that same stretch of road he was killed. Two other youth in the car were injured and terrified. Terror seems such a mild word in this case.

In reading the police reports, I understood that the man driving the car that hit me had been drinking in a bar for five hours before getting behind the wheel and crashing into my car not 1/4 mile away. The car that hit the deceased teen was also drinking in a bar not 1/4 mile from the crash.

When the case came to trial for the man who turned my life inside out, justice was served. The judge was fair and tough. The state's attorneys were empathetic and efficient. My car is fixed. Over the months my children's and my emotional wounds have been healing with much love and care. We are lucky not to be grieving like the families of those teens. Case closed?

It seems to me that these tragedies will not end until the bars in our communities stop overserving their patrons. Do you bar owners realize that when your customers leave your establishments so terribly intoxicated that they may be about to end or permanently alter the lives (Continued on next page)

Bogus parking ticket tales continue to roll

by BILL SCHROEDER

Readers who have been victimized by erroneous City of Chicago parking tickets continue to come forward.

Judy Swanson, a secretary in Lake Forest and her husband, Chuck, a Libertyville school teacher, sent in a check to avoid further complications, an all too common reaction. Judy worked in an office where two other persons received bogus Chicago parking notices, one who had recently moved to Lake County from Colorado.

Gwendolyn Hill told about receiving notice of a Chicago parking violation the same day she was chaperoning a youth group in Springfield. That happened in the early 1970's so the practice has been going on a long time.

Charlene Rockenbach, a retired nurse, and her husband, Ray, 79, a retired Grayslake businessman, both have been "cited" improperly by the City of Chicago. The Rockenbachs said their requests for copies of the original citations have been ignored. They haven't paid.

The best picture of what actually is happening was supplied by James Claypool of Lake Zurich who writes as follows:

"The City of Chicago Bureau of Parking (CCBP) operates a legalized extortion racket that intimidates law-abiding citizens to pay erroneous parking fines. CCBP knows it is not worthwhile for most suburban residents to go downtown and stand in long lines to contest a $25 ticket. How does CCBP fill its coffers?"

"First, a notice of parking violation arrives at your home in a no postmark bulk mail envelope. This means you may receive a notice a month after it was printed. Now you have 14 days to pay or contest, but 11 days later, another notice arrives to double your fine. On this notice is an eye-catching WARNING paragraph detailing license suspension, collection agencies, credit bureaus, and court proceedings.

"Pay the fine or fight City Hall? Many people pay the fine, even doubled to end the harassment. Try calling the phone number on the violation notice and all you get is a recorded message with just a broken promise of ever talking to a human being. How about sending a registered letter with proof of their error? You can expect a steady flow of violation notices because CCBP is in arrears investigating all the bogus violation notices it sends.

"It took 11 months before CCBP acknowledged their error and cleared my fine. Collection methods especially intimidate senior citizens to pay bogus fines. Maybe it is time for the Illinois Attorney General to investigate the CB operation."

The City of Chicago appears to be playing some sort of "game." We haven't heard of anyone suffering repercussions who views their notice as a hoax and has not capitulated with payment.

TAKE THE PLUNGE---Two wonderful people, Janet Ringa and Dr. Denny Dreyer, interrupted their 25-year romance with wedding bells last Saturday in Milwaukee, confounding friends who figured the devoted couple was bent on acquiring a paragraph for lengthy engagements in the Guinness Book. They'll be honeymooning at the French Riviera, getting back just in time for Janet to greet a new class for the fall term. The irrepressible Wauwatosa dentist says he has the most understanding patients in the world so he felt comfortable leaving his office for a wedding trip. With separate careers and homes in Wisconsin and on the Chain O' Lakes, they'll still be an on-the-go couple.

Baseball, life both games to learn from and savor

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

After the basketball championship was settled for the year 1993, we could relax, take a deep breath, get out of doors and involved with that uniquely American pastime, baseball.

Early in the spring there were rumblings of, "Its popularity is declining because it's too slow a game." But now that summer's here, the magic of the ivy covered walls, Lake Michigan in the background, real grass turf, some new names on the roster, banded together to bring attendance at Wrigley Field over the million mark before the middle of June!

And with two new expansion teams entering the competition, the season sparkles with new diversity.

It strikes me as somewhat incongruous that now, as an octogenarian, I am finally interested in this sport, or any sport.

Brought up in a rather sheltered atmosphere, my interests were in literature, the arts, history and its many landmark preservations. Museums of all sorts were attractions not to be overlooked.

My first contact with baseball was as a spectator at a game on the Kildeer School ground where son Dan was pitching. I was somehow pressed into being an umpire. Scared to death, I never dreamed that one day I would be in a big league ball park yelling about a real umpire's decision. (The usual cry of the old days, "kill the umpire!" is, of course, outlawed today for various reasons.)

An amusing incident happened the other day to Rick Wilkins, catcher for the Cubs. (It was not amusing to him, however.) Disgusted at receiving a "walk" instead of a chance to score with one of his many home runs, he discarded his bat rather forcefully, barely missing the umpire, unintentionally, of course.

Although baseball is certainly a team effort, the particular individual's performance at bat, or in the field is the cynosure of all eyes. There he is out there all alone, not huddled about by other players, the one on whom everything depends. We can all identify with his crisis.

Picture this: the score is tied; the bases are loaded; there are two "outs;" and you are up to bat. A grand slam "homer," a "walk," or a "strike-out," which shall it be?

The man of the house, and the woman, too, face many such exigencies nearly every day. The pump stops; something catches fire on the stove; there's a snake in the garden, a bee in the bedroom, a leak in the roof.

Life is just one continual problem to face for all of us. Its challenge is universal and all-pervading. And somehow we have to muddle through.

That's why it's so great to go to a ball game; to see the hits and the fumbles; the successes and failures; to enjoy the game and the surroundings; and to find increased resolve to do better the next time at bat.

Play ball!

It is gratifying to see the residents of Antioch Township once again have expressed themselves so strongly against the placement of the riverboats in our community even in light of the dubious promises of money that are being thrown around. Boycott?

I am from Wildwood and am happy to see that the police have finally clamped down on the store selling alcohol to minors. Too bad their license was only suspended for two weeks. As a community, we should stop patronizing a store that sells alcohol to underage children and puts their lives at risk for a profit. What do you think?

River runs through it

I have a home on almost two acres. The man behind me has five acres. He has built a ditch that is three feet wide and two feet deep. His water runs onto my property. He also has a lake that overflows onto my property. The zoning board will not help me! I am a widow and I think it stinks.

Gas costs

Hey Grayslake. Have you noticed the price of gasoline in town? They are pretty reasonable now, but don't be surprised if they go up before Labor Day. I buy my gas in Round Lake because they continue to raise the prices around the holidays. I encourage everyone to shop around.

Gang problems

We have gone to the Lake County Fair for the past 23 years. It is great, except for the last night. Why do we have to have everything spoiled by gangs? These gangs should think about what it is like for children and parents to fear for their lives over a turf war. It is sickening. If these gangs continue to torture people at these local carnivals, no one will go.

Toxic fears

Voters and taxpayers of Fox Lake should be smart. If there is even one small leak of toxic chemicals from the asphalt pit, the entire water table will be contaminated. Think about how much it will cost in tax dollars to clean that up!

Questions

I think that different countries should help us. I wouldn't call our country rich. We have lots of problems with schools, drugs, etc.... Also, why is the rodeo cruel and inhumane? Finally, older kids should stay out of the kiddie parks. The equipment is made for much smaller children.

Inquisitive

Concerning the wiretapping issue, why is one of the employees involved still employed? Enquiring minds of Round Lake Beach want to know!

Perfect husband

My wife Karen is a beautiful wonderful lady and mother. I just wanted to put it in Lipservice so she can see it in print. I will love you always.

Livestock buyers

I am calling to thank all the buyers who attended the Lake County Fair and purchased animals. Your support is greatly appreciated.

School nurses

Nurses in the school - we need them. If not for nurses, my child would not be able to attend without me being there part of the day. The first school my child went to, they did not have one. They made a judgment error and eventually shipped my child off to a school for the handicapped. Our new school does have a nurse, and my child can now attend regular school. All schools should have a nurse. If so, many more can attend.

Truck drivers needed?

I am a resident of Fox Lake and do not think the secretary of the highway department should be driving a truck. What is going on here?

Happy face

I want to put in a good word about the vacation bible school. Thank you for your efforts. My daughter comes home every day with a smile on her face.

Ticketing Texans

I live in Texas and want to complain that I still get tickets from Chicago. The tickets are dated from last year, although I have not been there in over four years. Someone needs to do something about this.

Smoky sandwich

I am from Wauconda. I think that restaurants can get their smoking customers back by installing better ventilation systems.

Wild Bird Center connects customers with nature

Bob Sadek and his wife Sherry have left their comfortable nest in Grayslake and have flown into business for themselves at the Wild Bird Center in Libertyville.

The Wild Bird Center has been open for three months and according to Sadek is receiving a warm welcome from its new customers.

"They're all happy that there is a store like this around," said Sadek. "We have good customers, and we have a product line that our customers get excited about."

The Wild Bird Center is dedicated to enhancing the enjoyment of backyard birds. Their goal is to serve their customers as "backyard birding specialists" by providing a large variety of products and services to help people learn about, identify, and attract wild birds to their backyards.

Among those products are high quality bulk seed, feeders, houses, nesting boxes, baths, and various other accessories. As an information source for hobbyists, the Wild Bird Center also provides books, field guides, compact disks, and cassette and video tapes about wild birds. Binoculars and other gift items can also be purchased.

"We try to provide quality products, services, and friendship to our customers," said Sadek. "I want to emphasize that we have a wider variety of products than most pet shops, hardware and other type stores. Our uniqueness is specializing in this particular hobby."

In the near future, the Wild Bird Center will sponsor free, regular birdwalks for "beginning" bird-watchers, and provide educational programs for school and community groups.

Wild Bird Center customers will also receive free subscriptions to the Libertyville edition of "Wild Bird News," a newsletter featuring articles about local birds and bird feeding as well as other issues and events of interest to backyard birders.

In opening the store, Sadek's goal is to help individuals and families throughout Lake County enjoy a connection with nature through feeding and watching wild birds.

Sadek began looking for his own business six years ago, and felt that a franchise was best for him. When he first started looking for a franchise he was in-between jobs.

Sadek had just finished 31 years with a major medical supply company, and since he couldn't find a franchise that interested him, he decided to pursue a job. After several years, Sadek left that job because he decided that it wasn't going to work out.

Sadek fondly recalled a bird store he had visited in Ohio. "It was a backyard bird feeding store, and while visiting it, I thought how nice it would be to have a similar type store.

"When I left my second job, I decided to pursue the industry and found there was a franchise that suited our desire for a new business—the Wild Bird Center, headquartered in Cabin John Maryland. We decided to pursue the franchise because it was attractive and well run."

The Wild Bird Center is a franchise of the Wild Bird Centers of America, and is located at the Red Top Plaza at 1322 Milwaukee Ave., Suite 109 in Libertyville. For more information about the Wild Bird Center, call Bob or Sherry Sadek at 549-9990.

Black-out draws attention to freedom of choice

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

All Ways Healthy owner Carole Childers hopes to draw attention to freedom of choice in the market place when she joins other health food stores across the country in blacking out the right to purchase certain health food products, Aug. 13.

Health food stores throughout the country are staging the black out to educate consumers about the proposed Federal Drug Administration (FDA) regulations which unfairly limit access to nutritional supplements, herbs and information.

But, Childers says for her the real issue is that consumers are losing their freedom of choice and are being baby-sat by the Federal Drug Administration.

"Whether or not you use or believe in using supplements, your freedom of choice is being taken away by these regulations," said Childers. "The FDA wants to make the choice for you. They feel the American public is not educated enough to make a responsible choice for themselves."

Childers' store has become a letter writing center to educate consumers and encourage them to write to their local congressional and senate leaders to support passage of the Dietary Supplement Health and Education Acts of 1993 (House Bill 1709 and Senate Bill 784).

The act will reinforce existing legislation stating that the FDA not attempt to limit the potency of these nutrients. The act also requires stricter Good Manufacturing Practices to ensure safe and effective products and will call for the establishment of an office within the (Continued on page 16)

Woroch elected president, Clara Abbott Foundation

Eugene Woroch, Ph.D., of Lake Forest has been elected president of the Clara Abbott Foundation.

The foundation provides financial assistance to employees of Abbott Laboratories, including educational grants for children of employees and retirees and financial help for employees, retirees and their families who face financial hardship, such as medical emergencies of home damage caused by natural disasters. The foundation is a not-for-profit corporation established in 1940 under the will of Clara Abbott, the wife of the company's founder, Dr. Wallace C. Abbott.

Woroch, who worked at Abbott for 28 years, retired in 1986 as director of scientific services in the Pharmaceutical Products Division. He has been a member of the foundation's board since 1988.

He currently serves on the application review panel of the Illinois Math and Science Academy and is director and treasurer of the Illinois Science Lecture Association, a non-profit organization that encourages outstanding high school students to pursue careers in science. Woroch holds B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in chemistry from the University of Wisconsin and an M.B.A. degree from the University of Chicago.

In the 1993-94 school year, the Clara Abbott Foundation made 2,350 educational grants at a value of $5.1 million. In addition, nearly $3.8 million in financial aid to Abbott employees and retirees will be granted or loaned this year.

Disaster loans available

Federal disaster loans are now available to small, non-farm, agricultural-dependent businesses in 62 Illinois counties that were economically affected as a result of damages and losses caused by excessive rainfall and flooding that occurred April 1 through July 1, and is continuing, according to John L. Smith, Chicago District Director for the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Lake, Cook and McHenry counties are included in the SBA's declaration.

The disaster designation was issued as a result of similar action taken by the Secretary of Agriculture to help farmers in those counties.

Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) provide working capital to small businesses so they can pay bills and meet normal operating expenses. Maximum loans to a business of up to $500,000 are available at four percent interest with loan terms of up to 30 years. SBA determines eligibility for the program based on the size and type of business and its financial resources. Farmers are not eligible.

Smith advised that loan applications and program information are available by calling toll-free 1-800-359-2227. The Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) and speech impaired number is 404-347-3751.

COLLEGE OF LAKE COUNTY

Instructor profile

Betty Robertson motivates students

Betty Robertson and a student discuss academic goals.

Instructor: Personal development.

Education: B.S., Purdue University; M.S., Northern Illinois University; M.A., Webster University.

Students tell me I'm: Open. I try to provide a forum for students to do some looking inward.

I hope my students learn: To be the best they can be. They need to evaluate what is most important in life from their own perspectives.

I enjoy teaching at a community college: It's challenging to work with adults. We define goals and work to get to the point where the student says, 'I can do this' without hesitation.

How I motivate students: Success is always determined by the student. I call on everyone every class and I don't take shortcuts. Students come prepared and they soon learn that learning can be fun.

Advice I share with students: It's OK to fail, but once you do, get up, brush yourself off and try again.

I've learned from my students: To let them find their own way. I can offer solutions, but it's more meaningful when they discover the answers for themselves.

Fall classes start Aug. 23, so register now.
Call 223-3636 for more information.

Wahl Appliance giving hand to help needy pets

A long-time pet lover, Dave Wahl of Wahl Appliances, is remembering pets during the hot months with a donation to local pet organizations.

Noting that summer time heat makes it easier for folks to forget to close doors and windows at home, allowing more dogs, cats and other house pets to escape, Wahl choose summer to highlight his love for pets.

Wahl is making a donation to "Pets in Need" or a pet organization of the buyers choice with every major appliance purchased in his store at 116 Rand (Rte. 120) in Lakemore.

The pet donation will be made through the end of August and applies to each major purchases a customer makes.

SBA 504 seminar: Money for growth

A seminar on the U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) 504 loan program, sponsored by the Lake County Economic Development Corporation and Tri-State Realty will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 15 at the Holiday Inn in Mundelein.

The SBA 504 program offers below market, long term, fixed-rate financing for expansion to qualifying small businesses. The 504 loan can provide up to $1 million, or 40 percent, of a business' fixed asset financing needs.

This amount is combined with additional financing from a participating bank, usually for 50 percent of the financing. The business provides the rest of the project cost, which is far below the norm for commercial projects. The financing can be used for the purchase of land or facilities, new construction, conversion or expansion of existing facilities, machinery and equipment purchases, furniture and fixtures.

The types of businesses which may be eligible for the program include manufacturing, wholesale, retail and others.

The seminar will begin with a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and end by 9:30 a.m. The fee is $20 per registrant. To register, call Tri-State Realty by Sept. 8 at (800)828-7723.

Institutes of Health to study the preventive health and therapeutic role of nutritional supplements and herbs. Presently, FDA classes any supplement that possesses a health claim as a drug. Opponents of the FDA regulations claim that prevents truthful information from being dispensed.

Aug. 13, Congressman Phil Crane will visit the store at 123 S. Rand in the Lakeview plaza, from 5 to 5:30 p.m. to speak with constituents about the issue and see first hand the types of products that would no longer be available to consumers over the counter.

"People don't realize how far reaching this regulation would be," said Childers. "It doesn't just apply to items found in health food stores but to many items consumers can purchase in local food markets."

Some of the items that would no longer be available include: herbal teas, herbs, amino acids, portent powders used for weight loss or weight gain, digestive enzymes, bee products, certain minerals and multivitamin supplements.

"Even things such as prenatal vitamins and fish oils would no longer be available," said Childers.

At the root of the controversy for many is the escalating cost of health care. "Many of these items if removed by the FDA would only be available by prescription," said Childers. "That involves a doctor's visit and the costs associated. Many people will not be able to afford access to products."

PM&L Theatre in Antioch is expanding its stage area and adding a scene shop.

PM&L getting facelift

For the past 32 seasons, Palette, Masque and Lyre (PM & L) Theater has been bringing the characters and music of Broadway and London's West End to Antioch.

Founded in 1960, by a group of 12, three actors, three musicians, three artists and three businessmen, the community theater group has grown a reputation for family entertainment at a fair price and spread the name of Antioch throughout the Chicago metropolitan area.

The idea of starting a community theater was born out of a Antioch High School PTA fund-raiser held for the 1958/59 school year.

"The PTA was doing a play as a fund-raiser and held auditions at the high school. There were hundreds of people that showed up to audition for the play," said Kenneth Smouse, one of the founding members. "Betty (Smouse's wife) and I had done theater in college and we thought if that many people came to an audition then they must want a theater."

Along with Jacqueline Miller Horton, Dr. James W. Kopriva and others, Smouse started the theater. "We each put in $10 for dues and that's how we got started," said Smouse, who recalls going up and down Main Street in the early years asking merchants for donations in order to finance the next production.

Over the years, the theater has grown and yet the core of it has remained the same. Now, boasting more than 80 members, many of whom travel long-distances to appear with the group, there is still a sense of family amongst those who find exhilaration underneath the lights or behind the stage.

"Many of us have been involved with the theater for many years," said Aileen Biel, who joined the group in 1965. "Our kids have grown-up together. Many who are involved today have been around the theater since they were 6 or 7 years old."

Biel says one of the draws to this community theater is that everyone does everything at one time or another. "One production you may be the stage manager, the next have a leading role and the following handle the lights," said Biel.

by RHONDA VINZANT

"For some people that doesn't work but many of us like the variety."

Biel, an English-born actress, got her start both in front of and behind the lights in small theaters outside of London. Upon moving to Antioch, she and her husband became involved with the group. As her children have grown, each of the three has affiliated themselves with the PM & L family.

The theater group's play committee is responsible for choosing the productions for the year. "We try to pick plays that the community would like to see," said Biel. "We usually do plays that are appropriate for the entire family. Occasionally, we will do a production with a more serious or mature theme and then we advise the audience that it is not appropriate for the entire family."

Over the years, the group has staged such productions as: "Man of La Mancha," "Into the Woods," "Children of a Lesser God" and "Lil' Abner."

For the first 20 years of the theater's history, they never repeated a production and have since rarely done so. PM & L has also served as a stepping stone for talented residents to move closer to the lime-light.

"Some of our members have went on to do professional theater," said Biel. "Some of our members have done professional theater before joining us. We try to maintain very high production values and most of our productions are very good," said Biel.

Today, PM & L, is staging the final show of its 32nd season, "Camelot," which is being presented at the Antioch

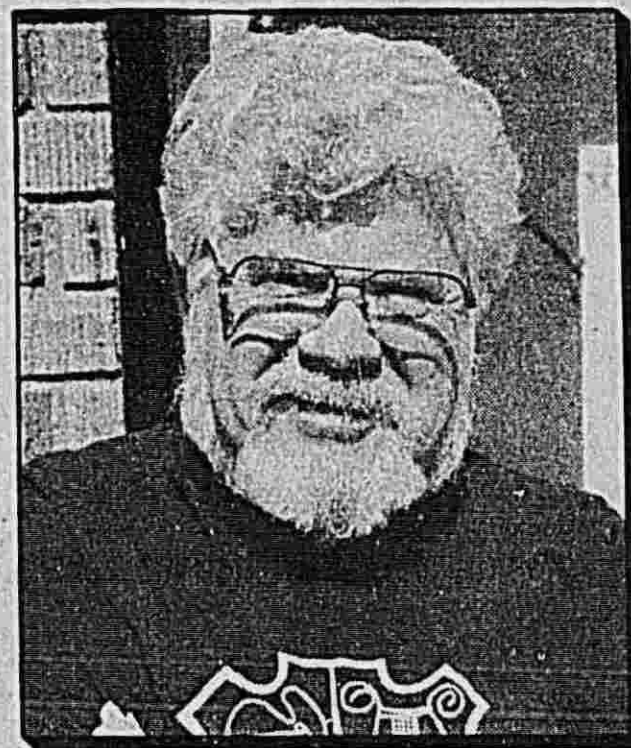

High School auditorium, Aug. 13 and 14, due to pending renovations to the Main Street theater.

"We will be extending the theater to the rear of the building," said Biel. "We will be adding a scene shop and a rehearsal stage. Presently, our sets have to be built on the stage and that cuts into rehearsal time and that affects the number of productions we can stage per year."

Besides providing more room for the theater group to expand and offering additional productions such as creative dramatics for adults, the rehearsal stage could be used by community groups for presentations or productions.

"Antioch Community Action Now (CAN) recently used the theater for a production," said Biel. "We have always tried to be open to the community in that way."

The expansion is being funded in part by a $36,000 state grant from the Department of Tourism. "It is a matching grant and we have to raise the matching funds," said Biel. "We have always been self-supporting." A fundraiser for the theater will be held in October with Bob Caldwell giving a one-man presentation (Continued on page 20)

Exercise plus dance equals fun

With MTV captivating young America, hip-hop has become the new art form of song, dance, art and now—fitness. Fitness centers across the county are taking advantage of this hot new trend by combining street oriented hip-hop dance moves with standard aerobic routines in order to motivate both kids and adults to start a fitness program that is fun and entertaining.

One national poll claims that 85 percent of the country hates to exercise. "Dance Pounds Away" a fitness center in Gurnee is starting a kids fitness program that teaches kids the latest in hip-hop dancing while also teaching them the basics in exercise. Mothers can also participate along with their children, so that moms' can get their kids started early on healthy habits.

Sessions will be offered this fall. For enrollment information call 662-2772.

of "Give 'em hell, Harry."

Today, the theater boasts nearly 700 season ticket holders and is moving toward being able to accommodate an advanced seat selection arrangement and special seating for season ticket holders.

"I think we are so popular because we offer an entertainment value for the whole family that doesn't contain the violence seen on television."

—Elmarie Beno, PM&L President

"Right now, it is first come, first served," said Biel. "We are working toward something better."

Other recent renovations include a major renovation of the downstairs lounge area in 1985 and the addition of new seats, which were funded in part from the "buying" of seats by patrons.

Despite being located in the heart of a growing but still small community of nearly 7,000, PM & L's popularity has continued to grow.

"I think we are so popular because we offer an entertainment value for the whole family that doesn't contain the violence seen on television," said Elmarie Beno, current PM & L president, who has been a member for the past 20 years. "We offer entertainment that people enjoy."

Beno feels the renovations will add to the character of downtown Antioch and cement the theater's place within the heart of the community.

"The village is hoping to improve parking in this area and with planned changes, PM & L will be a cornerstone of this area of town," said Beno. "We are a part of this community."

So You Want Your Luggage To Arrive At The Same Airport You Do?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There's the story of the guy who checks in at "Fly-by-Night" Airlines with three bags. He asks the clerk at the ticket counter to send one bag to Honolulu, another to New York and the third to Miami. The clerk informs the passenger that there is no way they could do this. The passenger replies, "Why not? You did it last week."

With the thousands of pieces of checked luggage passing through airports every day, it's inevitable that someone is going to be separated from their Samsonite. You can take some steps to reduce your chance of being the one having to find a new wardrobe in Jamaica.

Most luggage gets "lost" because the check-in clerk or skycap put the wrong airport tag on it. Learn the three-letter code for the airport to which you are flying. You can find it on your ticket or ask your travel agent. Some codes are obvious. "MIA" is Miami, "HNL" is Honolulu and "STL" is St. Louis. Others, such as "MCO" is Orlando, and "MCI" for Kansas City are not as apparent. Make sure the check-in clerk puts the tag with the correct code on your bag.

Remove all old airport tags from your luggage. If your suitcase still has the airport tag from your last trip to Rome and this one is to Maui, you may have a long wait for your bags to be delivered.

In addition to the required identification tag on the outside of your luggage, put an ID card in the bag. If your tag is torn off during handling, the airline has no way of reuniting the lost bag and the owner unless there is some form of identification inside.

Finally, do something unique to your bag to identify it on the baggage carousel. More than once, someone has not realized they have taken the wrong bag until they get home and have to explain the women's dresses in their suitcase to their wife!

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Business and pleasure don't mix this week. Small problems could arise now in connection with a friendship. Career concerns may take priority over recreational pursuits. Guard against a tendency to spend too much money.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Feelings deepen in romance, and couples will enjoy good times together this week. Home life may be upset in some way. It is not the best time to have company over. The weekend finds you in an extravagant mood. Make sure that your plans are down to earth.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Not everyone will agree with you this week. It is a poor time for financial negotiations, though some progress will be made in a career endeavor. You could overlook some important details now. Some you deal with this week tend to exaggerate.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Plans for shopping should be put off until another time. Some extra expenses could arise this week. Make sure you get the proper compensation for your services. Social life is active this weekend, and you will spend a bit too freely. Happiness comes through romance and leisure activities.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You will be able to bring an end to a family problem this week. Guard against a tendency to overdo, and watch your sweet tooth. It is not a good week for work interests. Hence, an existing assignment may take more time to complete than anticipated.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You could be fretting about little things this week. Try not to dwell on problems, but make a point of getting outside of yourself through relaxing endeavors. Not all is clear in the romance department. Advice you receive may be misleading. Weigh opinions carefully.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A family member with hurt feelings needs extra attention this week.

Shoppers may come home with an unusual purchase. An obstinate partner may not want to join you at a social function. The weekend spells merriment, but watch a tendency to go overboard on spending or the use of credit.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You have charisma this week and are effective in getting your ideas across to others. It is not the best week for career interests, however. Be less critical of others. This weekend, your moods veer from over-optimism to unjustified fears. Seek a middle ground.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) There could be something you are taking for granted on the job this week. Stay on top of small details. There is some concern about a financial matter. Be tolerant of those whose beliefs differ from your own. Travelers could meet with extra expenses this weekend.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be careful not to abuse credit this week. Partners may disagree about the use of joint funds. Singles meet with romantic introductions. Group activities are favored. Penny-pinching ways alternate with extravagant spending. Self-indulgence is a possibility this weekend.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This week's behind-the-scenes developments may benefit your career. You may be a bit short-tempered now with a close tie. You may inadvertently hurt this person's feelings. Try to be more trusting of others. Rise above a tendency toward suspicion of others' motives.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You may have to forget about that plan to work on a pending project this week. Constant interruptions mean that little will be done. Friends from afar contact you. You may somehow become unduly involved with a friend's problems. Remember your priorities.

'Sun' shines on big screen

Michael Crichton's best seller, "Rising Sun" has been transferred to the big screen by director Philip Kaufman and the result is an action packed thriller that keeps the audience's attention throughout.

Sean Connery, one of film's more talented elder statesmen, has class and command of the screen while his "buddy cop" Wesley Snipes does quite well as the Los Angeles cop that gets squeezed between some high powered Japanese-American corporate negotiations and the murder of a call that takes place smack in the middle of these "secret" negotiations.

Harvey Keitel has a sort of mundane role as a Japan-hating corrupt cop and Kevin Anderson, who seems to be everywhere, not only in Hollywood, but on the musical stage, does a creditable job playing a Sushi polishing American businessman.

Stealing the entire show is Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, who plays the swinging luxury-loving junior member of the Japanese corporate club who seems to be the murderer. Or is he?

Word was that the movie would be picketed because of its "Japan bashing."

What we saw was just a Japan that is doing business the usual American corporate way with the aid of the usual subterfuges that always seems to be in abundance when big business deals, bringing up the question, "Is Japan making up for Pearl Harbor, etc., by 'sneak attacks' on the American conference tables or are many greedy Americans selling off parts of their country to the highest bidder, which in the cases shown, happen to be the land of the Rising Sun."

The film fairly shows that both barrels have rotten apples. There's a few coincidences which are a bit much, but this is one of the season's movies worth paying the big-time price to see. We give it four out of a possible five stars.—by GLORIA DAVIS

I'm sorry

I live in Lindenhurst. I want to apologize to all of my close friends. I have been really crabby lately and I am sorry. I hope everything works out in the end.

Still looking

Recently two of my friends got hit and they still have not found the driver. It is really sad when people can not go out safely. Whoever hit them should fess up.

Lovely eulogy

We miss our friend Robert Scramm Jr. very much. We have many memories to keep but sometimes that is not enough. His family is in our hearts and may God watch over him. They took you out of lives, Robert, but not out of our hearts. We love you and miss you. Danny Jr. and Krystie.

Neighborhood concern

The fence has already been knocked down, please finish the job. Your neighbors are embarrassed and ashamed. Surely you can afford some paint. I live in Round Lake Beach.

Editorial note: Dear reader, has it ever occurred to you or your neighbors that this person may need a helping hand? Why not get together, buy some paint, and offer to help?

Ripped off

I am from Round Lake. The parents who allowed their sons to steal from my store should be ashamed. Parents who believe a 15 year-old without listening to the other side, have been made a fool of. We are not laughing, but I bet your son is!

Wired for sound

If I have to put up an antenna to receive network television in my home, it is bye-bye cable service.

Might help, though

I am sick and I cannot take it. In 1985-1986 I was told by the owner that he was working on the Mineola. Now, I am reading in the Tribune that if the riverboat comes he will fix it up. Well, as far as I can see it is not yet done! Please, you guys print these stories too. The repair of the Mineola is not going to save the area. Grow up, come on. I am from Fox Lake.

Teen wars

The teenagers in College Trail do not ruin the subdivision. We are not the ones with bad language, it is your children. They pick it up from your mouths. Leave us alone.

Builder complaints

Hi Lipservice, you are wonderful. I think it is just great that you spend your life's savings on a new home and all you get is grief from the builder. They gave free car washes and a picnic. But, try to get customer service work done, forget it. Come knock on my door.

So, get cleaning

I am calling from Antioch. They should fix up the industrial park here. Get rid of junk cars, put in sidewalks, and plant some grass. It looks like tobacco road. No company would want to come here the way it looks now.

Wants more Lipservice

I am from Ingleside. I want you to know that I love Lipservice. I just got my paper and this has to be the smallest amount of messages you have had in years since it has started. I recently called with a number of messages, but none of them have appeared. With the amount of messages you print lately, you can't tell me there is no room. Otherwise, keep up the good work.

Mad at Clinton

If the present tax bill gets passed, I would like to see the people who voted for Clinton stand up. Just so they can take what they have coming.

Quick meetings

This is to the mayor of Fox Lake. How much business can the mayor and his board accomplish when they have 15 minute board meetings the first and third of the month? How can they get paid for that when nothing is accomplished?

Casino supporter

To the person who said that "all of you that voted for the casino should go to Las Vegas." The casino will bring a lot of money to Antioch and Grant schools. It will benefit the education of the children in the area. The children should be our top priority.

Mad about Lipservice

I am from Antioch. I am mad. Just one and a half pages of Lipservice?! This is all we get? Your paper is not worth it. You know what you can do!

Whoops

Well, you did it again. I am from Antioch, reading the paper. Enjoying the article on page one. We are told the article continues on page 8. Go to page 8 and it is not there. You look and you look. Finally, you find it on page 51. This is not the first time this has happened. Get your act together. We like reading you, but do not want to hunt for it!

Pleased with official

Thank you for this service. I have lived in Round Lake Heights for 45 years. I so happy that we have a Lake County Board that is on the side of the people protecting our present homes. He does not let new builders come in and do what they please. I feel that he is protecting the people who live here now. I read the article in your paper and I could not wait to get on the phone. It is good to have politicians who protect the public. Thank you Mr. Leafblad.

On track

I live in Wauconda. I want to thank the Wauconda school board for having the track at the school for the residents to use at all times. I have lived here for 45 years and I think we have the best mayor, village board, and street department of any other area around here.

Oh, Mr. Postman

I just tried to mail a letter in downtown Antioch. It is really hard. You can't get near the post office to park. There are no convenient boxes anywhere. How about putting one by the Piggly Wiggly, Walgreens, and the Jewel. Make it easy for people to mail a letter.

Editorial note: Dear reader, there is a mailbox at Jewel! Also, if you read the Antioch Reporter last week you will discover that Mayor Shineflug is aware of this problem and is working on it.

Sore eyes

Does anyone think that house trailer sitting on Rollins Road near the storage shed looks bad? If so, call into Lipservice. Let's get that ugly green monster out of sight.

Kitty corps?

I have never heard of any feline corps in the police department. How about you, person who thinks dogs are stupid? There are just canine corps. I have never heard of any seeing eye cats or guide cats. Just dogs lady, just dogs.

Very attached

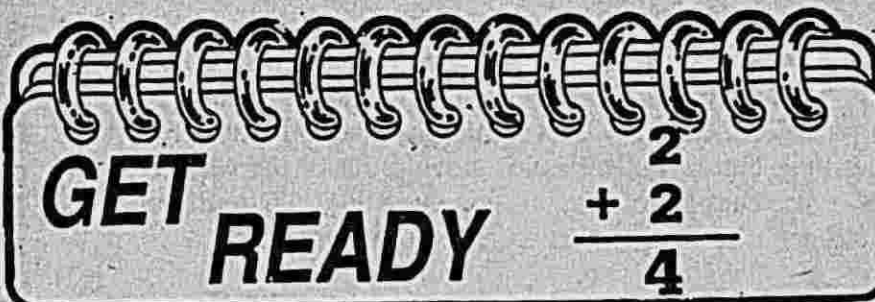

I am calling from Mundelein. I am tired of people picking on people who own dogs. My dog is as important to me as some people's children. I like taking my dog with me and I always pick up after him. I wish people would get off their high chairs and act realistic.

LIPSERVICE

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Are you sure?

I live in Fox Lake and am not a crack-pot. I was wondering if there are any friends of Ishmael out there. Did he teach anyone out there? Please call Lipservice and let me know. I still don't know whether "with the gorilla gone this man has a chance."

Just wondering

I am from Ingleside. I was wondering when you decide not to run a call, is that it? Or, sometimes do you run it later when there is room?

Editorial note: Dear reader, if a note is rejected because of content, it will never be run. However, if it is a matter of room we will run it the following week assuming it is still relevant.

Hot under the collar

What is wrong with this paper. They did not have a single picture of the fair in it. I also want to say that the buildings were so hot no one could stand to be in them. They should spring for some air-conditioning. It was stupid. I am sounding off from Round Lake.

Editorial note: Dear reader, Lakeland Newspapers prepared a 48 page fair booklet included in every newspaper.

Anti-development

Your Antioch Community Guide's section about Jim Fields power structure should appall the residents. His statement about how he is going to continue on the same path should warn residents about what path he is on. It is that of the developers. His support of the riverboat despite the will of the people, is business as usual for the minority who elected him.

Buzz

Rumor has it that Mayor Davis has fired his administrative aid, Jo Garret. You may want to have someone check into this.

Editorial note: Dear reader, thanks for the tip! We did follow this up and it is true. Read all about it the Round Lake News and Lake Villa Record.

Happy reader

I live in Mundelein. It is Sunday morning and I am reading the News-Sun. I just read an article about gangs on the front page. It really sounded familiar so I check through my stack of old newspapers that I had laying around. I found that I had read the same article a month ago written by Susan Reed and Mary Foley. I want to comment that it is nice to see that your paper is on top of things. I will be renewing my subscription. Great work.

Editorial note: Dear reader, thanks for noticing! The newspaper seems to be taking a few shots in this week's Lipservice. It is a relief to hear something good.

Crazy drivers

The people driving through Richmond should be more careful. A police car had its lights flashing and siren screaming, but people were not moving out of the way. This police car had to drive around everyone. These drivers should get a bunch of tickets. I am from Antioch.

In a jam

I worked hard to place second in the Concord Grape Jelly Division at the county fair. Why did someone steal my second place jar and ribbon and leave the fifth place jar behind? Please return them and quit passing off my work as your own.

Pasquinelli homes offer special appeal to first-time buyers

Coupling both quality and value, Pasquinelli Construction Company's Classic Homes Division is offering their newest model the Laurel at Butterfield Place, a new 60-home single-family community in Zion. A brand-new two-story plan the Laurel offers 1,400 square feet of living area with several options available.

The Laurel comes complete with three bedrooms and features one-and-one half baths. A formal living room and adjoining dining room and a standard lot with sodded front, seeded side and rear yards. A large eat-in kitchen and an attached two-car garage are also included in the base purchase price of $104,990. For a limited time, Pasquinelli is including a family room in the base price.

The home also features a full brick front with aluminum siding in a variety of color choices and a cemented crawl space. Other standards include: wall to wall carpeting, wood windows with insulated glass and screens, legacy oak trim and doors and smoke detectors.

The kitchen features: furniture quality cabinets, decorator counter tops, double bowl stainless steel sink, gas range and hood fan, dishwasher, garbage disposal and easy care no-wax vinyl tile floor.

The Laurel, as with the other four models available, offers the buyer the opportunity to increase value and living space in their home with several option features. Among the available options are: a fourth bedroom, additional full bath, optional family room with skylights and a fireplace and optional master bath and an optional box window looking out of the breakfast nook.

Situated just north of Route 173 approximately 4 1/2 miles east of I-94, Butterfield Place enjoys a superior Lake County location near Van Patten Woods Forest Preserve.

"The area is great for raising a family with amenities that include a forest preserve, an indoor skating rink, a nine-hole golf course, a lagoon with fishing and paddle boats, a seven-mile bike trail and a community center with indoor and outdoor polls," said Tina Pasquinelli, general manager of Classic Homes.

Located within the Beach Park Elementary and Zion-Benton High School District, the single-family home development is central to everything from downtown commuter train and regional airport service to the Illinois Beach State Park and the shore of Lake Michigan.

Also featured at the new community are four three-bedroom, one-bath split-levels with an additional two full baths available.

The Oak is a split level, three-bedroom, 1 bath home prices at $108,990. The Maple is a split level, three-bedroom, 1 bath home featuring additional living space over the Oak. It is priced at $113,990.

The Randolph is a split level, three-bedroom home with one bath and a two car garage standard starting at $111,990. The Morgan is a split level featuring three bedrooms, a bath, covered patio and two car garage as standard features starting at $120,990. All home styles include a cemented crawl.

"For a limited time, we'll also be including an optional family room. Depending on the model selected, this adds between 170 and 500 square feet at no extra charge representing a $5,300 value money buyers can either save or spend on other optional amenities," Pasquinelli said.

In addition to an existing model, a new Laurel model is already under construction and scheduled to open to the public this November. Meanwhile, Pasquinelli has a limited number of spec homes available for immediate occupancies. First occupancies for new-start homes are expected to begin by year's end.

"As was the case at Highland Meadows, we expect these homes, too, will hold special appeal for the first-time buyers looking for both quality and value," Pasquinelli said.

For more information about Butterfield Place, phone 872-6815 or visit the on-site sales center and models. Hours are 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. —by RHONDA VINZANT

Move tender herbs, flower gardens indoors

Move tender herbs and flowers into the house by building this leakproof tray. Made from versatile Western softwood, this tray makes an attractive and useful container to house a collection of small potted plants. You can keep the tray on a counter top, window sill or floor—wherever there's sufficient light for your plants to grow.

The wood container is built around a disposable aluminum roasting pan, so pots can be watered without damaging either the container or the surface it's sitting on. The aluminum pan, available at any grocery store, come in a variety of sizes, both larger and smaller than the 12 1/2-inch by 18-inch selected for this project.

The sides and base of the container are made from standard 1x4 Western lumber, with the base inset 1/4-inch on all sides. For a 12 1/2-inch by 18-inch pan, you will need two lengths of 1x4 for the sides, each 19 3/4-inches lengths of 1x4 for the base. (Note: Pan sizes vary significantly so be sure to purchase the pan before you build the container. Dimensions can be adapted to fit almost any size pan).

Build the outer frame by connecting the sides and ends with carpenter's glue and 4d finishing nails, three per joint. You can avoid splitting the wood by pre-drilling the nail holes using a drill bit slightly smaller than the diameter of the nails. For a more finished appearance, use a nail set to recess the nails, then fill the holes with putty.

Turn the frame upside down and center the bottom boards on the base. There should be 1/4-inch between the edges of the base and the outer edge of the frame, on all sides. Glue and nail the base in place with 4d nails, using the three nails at the ends and five or six along the side edges.

Sand and finish the container to match your decor. Since it will not be subject to water damage, you can use any interior stain, paint or varnish.

With the aluminum roasting pan in place, you may want to add a small amount of pea gravel or other small stones to keep the pots from sitting directly in water. Now you're ready to bring your garden indoors.

Tool and Materials List (dimensions given are for a 12 1/2-inch by 18-inch roasting pan).

Materials: 1 disposable aluminum roasting pan; 13 linear feet of 1x4 Western lumber; 1/2 pound of 4d finishing nails; Carpenter's glue; wood putty (optional).

Tools: Saw, hammer, drill, nail set (optional).

Kitchens tend to be hub of family activity

Creating a warm and cozy country feeling is one way to keep everyone comfortable in the kitchen. The welcome feeling creates just the right atmosphere for this kitchen. The open design with the work space facing sitting area allows conversation to flow fully and uninterrupted.

Attractive kitchens are important to empty nesters who tend to make the room the hub of activity.

Kitchens are where everyone gathers, whether neighbors are over for coffee or friends for a dinner party pointed out Kirsten Sparkman sales manager of Park Barrington, homes for empty nesters and retirees.

Most empty nesters are looking for features in new homes that make their lives simpler. That equates to being situated near laundry and powder rooms, and having direct entry into living and dining rooms.

"The traffic patterns of our homes—how rooms are situated in relation to each other and how people use them—offer homeowners easy access to the rooms used most,"

Sparkman said.

Standard in Park Barrington Kitchens are General Electric appliances including dishwashers, double-ovens, garbage disposals and frost-free 24-cubic-foot refrigerators with ice makers. Sparkman noted that refrigerators usually are not included in the base prices of homes. However, she found the amenity to be very important to Park Barrington homeowners who often sell their appliances along with their previous houses.

Other kitchen features are custom-crafted cabinets, laminate countertops, no-wax flooring, and Moen faucets. In addition, an allowance is provided so new homeowners can choose light fixtures that coordinate with their own decorating style and tastes.

Many options and upgrades also are available in kitchens. For example, extended overhangs for islands can be installed so they may be used to serve lunch or snacks. Built-in ovens, microwaves instead of second ovens, oak flooring, and pocket doors separating kitchens from living/dining areas, are just a sampling of other possibilities.

Sparkman said customizing homes is more the norm than the exception at Park Barrington.

Buyers also may customize their homes' exteriors by choosing from a wide selection of color combinations. Exteriors feature brick and cedar siding, cedar-shake shingles, covered entries, and asphalt driveways.

10th Annual RV AND VAN SHOW

On the road again

For anyone who has ever dreamed of taking to the open road in a recreational vehicle, commonly known as a RV, the 10th Annual Lake County RV and Van Show offers consumers the opportunity to compare prices and options available as well as get a closer look at a wide range of RVs.

The show is held at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake at the corner of Rtes. 45 and 120, Aug. 18 - 22. Show times are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Wednesday through Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sunday. The fairgrounds are easily accessible from the north or south from I-94.

The show features dealers representing all the major manufacturers from several areas including: Northern Cook County, Lake County, McHenry, Crystal Lake and Rockford. The show features as many or more units on display than any show in Northern Illinois.

The show will provide consumers an opportunity to shop for a fold down or a small tow-along, fifth wheel, travel trailer, Class A motor home, mini-motor home, van or truck for towing.

Most dealers will have some used units on display as well as new. There will be a special van and tow vehicle display featuring some of the best known names in conversion vans and trucks for camping and towing.

Every dealer at the show has a trusted reputation in the business and each display will have enough personnel to give visitors the time and attention to make an informed RV choice.

The dealers have made special arrangements to have appraisers at the show for the full five days so consumers may bring their trades with them for instant appraisal.

The show prides itself on being affordable to consumers and recommends those seriously shopping to spend more than a day comparing vehicles, options and prices.

Over the years, many visitors to the show have found that owning a RV is more than parking a piece of equipment in their driveway and taking a trip once a year. Lasting friendships are made all over the country and families and retirees find it a way to spend quality time with family members.

Admission to the show is $4 with a senior discount of $1 Wednesday through Friday. For more information call 623-3989 or the Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau at 1-800-LAKE-NOW.

From castaways to keepsakes: creative recycling in the kitchen

Garbage is garbage. Or so you've always thought. The greening of America, however, is forcing many people to think twice before they throw something away. Creative thinking can transform nearly any "trash" item into a festive useful gift.

Try looking at boxes, bottles and lidded cans (such as coffee cans) with a new eye. For example, tall, slim glass bottles (such as wine or vinegar bottles) can show off homemade flavored vinegar's to their best advantage. To make your own, pour a good quality white or wine vinegar over your favorite fresh herbs, such as springs of rosemary and thyme or cloves of peeled garlic or shallots. Seal with corks purchased at a gourmet shop and tie with pretty ribbon. These vinegars will surely please your favorite cook or salad lover.

Another much-appreciated gift made from kitchen recyclable is a specially decorated box or can filled with sweet treats. Using glue, cover a lidded box or can with wrapping paper or wall paper. Once the can or box is covered, personalize with trims, buttons, beads and so on. Fill with cookies or candies and you have a tasty, inexpensive gift.

Once you get started with these ideas, it's easy to create many projects of your own. A little time and energy can turn kitchen throwaways into inexpensive, delightful gifts.

Major kitchen remodel—an investment?

"Yes, indeed!" says Star Norini, CKD, owner of Distinctive Kitchen Designs in Wauconda. "A major kitchen overhaul can be a great investment. I've seen remodeled kitchens bring from a 100 percent to a 150 percent return if the job is done right."

Sales agents not only agree about the value of a major kitchen remodeling, they estimate a 94 percent payback nationally. In the Chicago area an average $20,533 kitchen remodeling job can bring a $20,175 return—or 98 percent."

However, Norini cautions, "don't proceed with a remodeling job until you've done the footwork. Throwing money away on inferior work and products is not the way to a positive investment." Norini offers the following suggestions:

- Use a professional. Find a designer who is willing to work with you in designing a kitchen to meet your lifestyle, your style preference and, of course, your budget. Distinctive Kitchen Designs has built its reputation on giving their clients the personalized designed service.

- Select products that are not only good quality, but versatile, convenient and easy to maintain. The Wood-Mode line of cabinetry offered at Distinctive Kitchen Designs offers a well-boasted reputation for expert craftsmanship, beautiful styling and unmatched attention to detail.

- Get the right contractor. Look for a contractor with an established business in your area, ask for references.

- Stop in the showroom located at 203 S. Main St., Wauconda and meet one of the professional designers. See the beauty and custom-built quality of Wood-Mode cabinetry.

Clean hands

A non-messy way to make hamburger patties is to use clear plastic sandwich bags. Place the meat inside the bag and mash down with anything flat. You can use your hands, but a frying pan or small cutting board gets the job done more quickly and evenly.

Bath mats

Clean rubber bath mats in the washing machine, along with the bath towels, using hot, soapy water and bleach. The shower curtain can also be washed this way and come out clean as new.

Energy saver

This tip may save a few pennies as well as the life of the refrigerator. Instead of opening the freezer door every time to you have to put something away, line all the items up next to the fridge and put them all in at one time. This cuts down on excess operation, saves electricity, and the food does not cool off that quickly.

Who's that?

A great way to identify someone while jogging is to make a reduced copy of your medical insurance card, and on the back list (in order to be called) the name and phone number of whom to contact in the event of an emergency. The card can be laminated and carried in the pocket of your jogging shorts. A hole can be punched in the card and worn dog-tag style if necessary.

Alarm clock

Do you want to get some sleep while your teenagers are out for the evening? Simply agree on a time to be home, and then set the alarm clock for that time. Then, go to bed and sleep! When they come home, they turn off the alarm. If the alarm rings, it's time to get up and find out why they are not home. Occasionally, they may be delayed; then it is their responsibility to call.

Household

'Tis the season

With all the summer weddings and showers coming up this tip is worth mentioning. When planning a kitchen shower, ask the guests to enclose their favorite recipe in the box and to wrap the present in a terry kitchen towel instead of paper.

Keeping tabs

Teenagers have a lot of friends. To keep tabs on who's who make an indexed directory. Keep a card under each child's name, such as "John's friends" or "Pam's friends." List their friends and their phone numbers. This way, you always know right where to look for a phone number when you need to get in touch with them.

Removal reminder

Air travelers should be certain to remove old baggage-destination tags from luggage upon returning from each trip. If the tags are not removed, you may find that your luggage has been routed to the destination code on an old tag from your last trip instead of the one on the new tag.

Outdoor grill cleaning

Cleaning an outdoor grill is a time-consuming and tough job. Removing all the black gook takes a lot of elbow grease. To eliminate this job, spray the grill with a generous coat of non-stick vegetable spray. This makes cleanup a snap.

Dill pickles

Do you like dill pickles, but find there is always a lot of brine left in the jar when the pickles are eaten? Put cucumber spears or fresh-snapped green beans in the brine for three or four days. You'll then have lightly pickled cucumber spears or green beans. There are no doubt other vegetables that could be used also. Enjoy!

Bath safety checklist

When considering remodeling your bathroom follow these safety tips:

- Non-slip flooring used throughout the space.
- electrical switches placed away from tub or shower.
- Grab-bars at shower/tub entrance and inside enclosure.

'White, light and airy' is new look in kitchen and bath

Kitchens and baths are among the most visible rooms in your home. They need to be practical, yet keep pace with today's design trends. But did you know that you can completely change the look and character of your kitchen and bath without the high cost of remodeling? How? With color—the easiest, simplest, most versatile and likely the most affordable design element.

A variety of trendy paint color schemes can add life, lustre and an update to these two most cherished, and used, rooms in the house.

It's important to choose a color that will complement the shape and feel of a room. A warm and invited color may make your kitchen cozier, while a cooler tone will enhance smaller bathrooms you want to appear roomier.

White is still first and foremost the "in" color for kitchens and baths, lending itself to radiating a very clean, airy, fresh, feeling. Completely white walls, white tile and white cabinets, accented by all colored accessories, add splash and excitement. For a more subtle sophisticated look, add glass or all natural accessories. But the hottest look for kitchens and baths today is a layering of whites, creams and light neutrals.

If not white, light pastels are next in line for "light and airy." Try peach and almond tones in the bath. Both colors are great compliments to the skin. Warm yellows are making a comeback in the kitchen combined with whites and neutrals.

For kitchen and bath, it's important to remember that a durable specialty paint is necessary for hard-hit areas. By hard hit, that means high-traffic areas, walls and cabinets prone to moisture, steam, high temperatures, rust and mildew. Under such conditions, paint can crack, peel and fade. Acrylic enamel paints offer superior color options, adhesion and fast-drying benefits, also allows homeowners the convenience of high gloss, durability and one-coat coverage for walls, ceilings, doors, cabinets, woodwork and moldings, even masonry and metal.

Ideas for setting up an efficient home office

It is estimated that more than 25 million people who now work from home are turning that spare room into an organized office where they feel comfortable and productive, is easy and relatively inexpensive.

Finding the room to establish a home office is one of the biggest problems people face but, once the major hardware purchases are made (FAX, copier, computer, and printer) consumers should take a close look at computer accessories to maximize space, increase organization, and produce a greater level of comfort in the home office.

Computer accessories can be found just about anywhere: office supply stores, computer specialty shops, even department stores; and they can be used anywhere. Computer accessories are not just for the corporate office anymore. Anyone with a home office will appreciate the organizational, space-saving, and protective capabilities of computer accessories.

Along with some suggested computer and electronic accessory products, here are some design tips for creating a home office:

•Budget: As with any business, assigning a budget to this new venture lets one know what's essential and what can be purchased "down the road."

•Hardware: Many manufacturers, recognizing the boom in home offices, are now designing specific products for this market.

FAX machines and copiers are smaller, computers are faster, printers are quieter. A computer, printer, and FAX machine is necessary to get started. Plan on spending from $2,500 to $3,200 for this package.

•Furniture: Choose an adjustable office chair with proper back support. Make a desk by placing a portable top over filing cabinets which can save money, and is easy to move.

•Accessories: Monitor arms lift monitors to a better viewing angle, system stands hold the CPU vertically on the floor; both save space. A disk file stores and organizes working diskettes. A printer placed on printer legs keeps paper neat and increases desktop space. A copyholder reduces eye, neck and back strain when placed next to the monitor.

•Aesthetics: Choose accessories that match one's personal and professional style. Take time to create a space that is functional, unique and comfortable.

Nothing against good television, mind you.
But we think YMCA before and after school programs are more fun and educationally stimulating for children than watching old westerns, cartoons, or afternoon soaps.

Plus, YMCA programs give your children a safe place to go when you can't be with them.
And all the programs are supervised by professionally-trained leaders who give children the individual attention and encouragement they need.

So give your children the chance to tune into YMCA before and after school programs. Call Hastings Lake YMCA at 356-4000 for information.

National PTA offers back-to-school tips

The days are getting shorter and there will soon be a crispness in the air signaling the return of fall. School corridors will be filled with children finding their way to class. The National PTA wants all parents to be prepared to help their children ease into the school year.

"Studies show that children do better in school when their parents are involved in their learning activities. Your involvement is one of the most important factors to ensuring the best education for your child," said National PTA President Pat Henry.

More Back-to-School See Page 47

The National PTA offers the following suggestions for parents:

Before school starts

- Check with your doctor to make sure your child has received the proper immunizations.
- Establish the school-day routine for bedtime and waking about a week before school starts.
- Review basic safety rules, such as crossing the streets, what to do in an emergency and where to stand when catching the school bus.
- Review the safest route to the bus stop or school.

• Increase the amount of responsibility and independence your child assumes.

Once school begins

- Ask your child's teacher to give you a list of school supplies.
 - Get acquainted with your child's teacher. Ask the teacher about the curriculum and other activities and how you can help at home.
 - Limit the amount of television children watch to one hour on school days and two hours on weekend days.
 - Provide quiet, private work spaces where children can study undisturbed.
 - Ask your youngsters to read their textbooks to you while you prepare dinner, sort laundry or drive the car. When they finish a section, discuss your children's questions or thoughts.
 - Be sure to attend "Back-to-School Night" at your child's school.
- Remember that your attitude toward school will also determine how your child feels about school. If your children express doubts or fears, don't ignore them. Answer their questions in a positive, reassuring way. By preparing ahead of time, parents will be sure to make returning to school an exciting learning experience for their children.

Shopping for school clothes

Shopping for back-to-school clothes is as American as apple pie—but probably not as well-liked! Your shopping trip doesn't need to be an annual dreaded event. Use these tips to make your shopping trip more pleasant for both you and your child:

- Shop in a mile in your kid's shoes. Be prepared for hunger and boredom. Bring along a fun snack or two and some activities, like crayons, to squelch boredom. Make sure your child is well rested before you start.
- Easy on, easy off. Because he/she will probably be trying on a variety of clothes, dress your child in clothes that go on and off quickly and easily. Sweat pants, tennis shoes, one-piece dresses are good examples.

- Try to avoid shopping during the stores busiest hours.

- Don't set your sights too high. Better to have a few pleasant experiences than one long dreadful one.

- Praise good behavior. Make sure to notice when your child is cooperating.

- Let your child pick out some of his/her own clothes.

Griefnotes

Why is there such an emphasis on death and grief today?

There have been great advances in medical science which have removed death from the daily lives of most Americans. Because of this we are generally unfamiliar with death and grief. We are fortunate that our experience with death has lessened, but nevertheless it's important to learn about the things we can do to help ourselves and friends. Making wills and understanding how to help our grieving friends will help us cope better when the stress of a death comes into our lives. Avoiding death by ignoring it, by not making wills or by not going to funerals or visitations is a denial of reality!

How To Survive
The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I contacted an ad in the newspaper for a job as a receptionist. The person on the phone screening the calls asked about my previous receptionist skills for which I had over two years experience. The next question asked is still puzzling so I am asking if you have ever heard of the term "rolm or roam system"? I have asked a few people but none who has ever heard of the term. Thanks. L.A. - Lake Bluff

A: Dear L.A. The name "rolm" refers to the manufacturer of a very popular telephone system often referred to as the "rolm system". Rolm is very popular among mid to large sized corporations, known for its diverse ability and ease. Hope this helps.

Q: Dear...Search: My husband took a management position with a nationally known retailer about 14 months ago with the knowledge that it is policy to rotate managers to other locations approximately every two years. During his hiring process this was a non-negotiable point. He has been advised that he is to be transferred in January to a store in the U.S. that is not a desirable location. My husband has refused to approach his Regional Director telling us that this the nature of his business. If he did, how would you recommend he approach his boss to express his desire not to relocate to that particular location? We have settled into our area we are currently in, made lots of wonderful friends and prefer not to have to make the move. G.S. - Lake Villa

A: Dear G.S. It is hard for me to comprehend through your letter whether or not your husband has the same feelings about making the move as you appear to. Therefore I'll only suggest to you that before your husband would make any attempt to speak to his "higher uppers", that he weigh out the alternative, and that is to prepare one's self for the possibility that the boss could ask for his resignation. That is providing that this was as you called it a "non-negotiable point". In business as in everyday life...we must take the good with the bad. While two years is a relatively short period of time I am hoping that upon his acceptance of this position, he understood the relocation clause. If his intentions are to stay with the company, find an area to live if that suits you all. Even if it means being a bit further away from his office. Perhaps riding a train to work instead of driving an added distance could help balance both.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Prep fans, take note of Chiefs

Nester Toro. John Glatt. Mac Mansavage. Clark Collins. Nate Alden.

These are not household baseball names in Gurnee, Riverwoods, Waukegan and Park City now, but given a few years, those names will probably figure highly in plans of area high school baseball coaches.

"This is the farthest I have ever gone with a team," Manager Art

Mansavage said after a fourth-place finish.

The Chiefs won their pool with a perfect 4-0 record, but then were given a setback by Memphis Mavericks, 16-6. While the Mavericks were eliminated long before the Chiefs were ousted in Kansas City, the loss made the medal round a tougher row to hoe.

"That loss hurt because it made us use up pitching innings," Mansavage said.

Following a team closely for a 48-hour stretch (including the first six waiting for the first game due to rain), meant an introduction into some technical baseball rules such as offensive conference, defensive conference, high school re-entry rules and courtesy runners (pinch runners for pitchers and catchers).

The first task last Thursday was staying alive and the Chiefs did just that with a 7-0 win over New England. Clark Collins and Nester Toro combined for a no-hitter as the Chiefs won. A series of walks and errors staked the team from Lake County to a 4-0 lead after one. A two-run single by Alden gave the team some breathing room.

"This game we played like Chiefs," Mansavage said. "Nester is not in the rotation, but he is the kind of guy a team rallies behind."

Peete is one of three left-handed pitchers.

"I have been coaching baseball for 15 years and I don't think I have ever had the luxury of three lefties," Mansavage said.

Collins' home run sparked a four-run third inning which appeared to put the Chiefs in the driver's seat at 5-0 lead over Bloomington in the Final Eight game. That seat got uncomfortable as Bloomington scored four runs in the fifth inning, meaning starting pitcher Wesley Peete had to finish the job.

But the Chiefs held on, and celebrating the final six.

Some tourney notables after losing to Little Rock, Ark. 6-5, a game away from a shot at the national championship.

Best defensive play: It's a toughie, but right up there is a left-to-short-to home out executed by West Des Moines.

The why don't they put in fences award: to Clark Collins, whose dramatic which defeated West Des Moines 2-1 would have cleared the fences at most high school parks.

Best pre-game music: to the West Des Moines faithful. The three-time defending champion Chicago Bulls (Continued on Page 44)

Chiefs have moments to cherish 11-year-olds finish fourth in national tourney at Kansas City

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Clark Collins still has two years left before he enters high school, but the 11-year-old from Waukegan will always be able to recall a pair of highlights from a national tournament in Kansas City last week.

Collins blasted the first pitch of the eighth inning for a game-winning home run, giving the Lake County Chiefs a 2-1 victory over West Des Moines. The win secured fourth place in the AAU tournament for the Chiefs, their highest finish ever. The team had to settle for that position as it ran out of miracles against Little Rock, Ark. in a 6-5 loss.

"I just wanted a base hit. It was a fastball right over the middle of the plate. I was in a slump before, but I got my feet more upright," Collins said.

Collins' other highlight was pitching four innings of no-hit ball against New England in a 7-0 Chiefs win. Nester Toro got the last six outs.

The Chiefs and the contingent of parents who made the trip to Missouri cheered wildly, with the exception of Collins' mom. The excitement proved to be too much for Cheryl Collins, who nonetheless gladly posed with her husband, Dave, an assistant coach and hero.

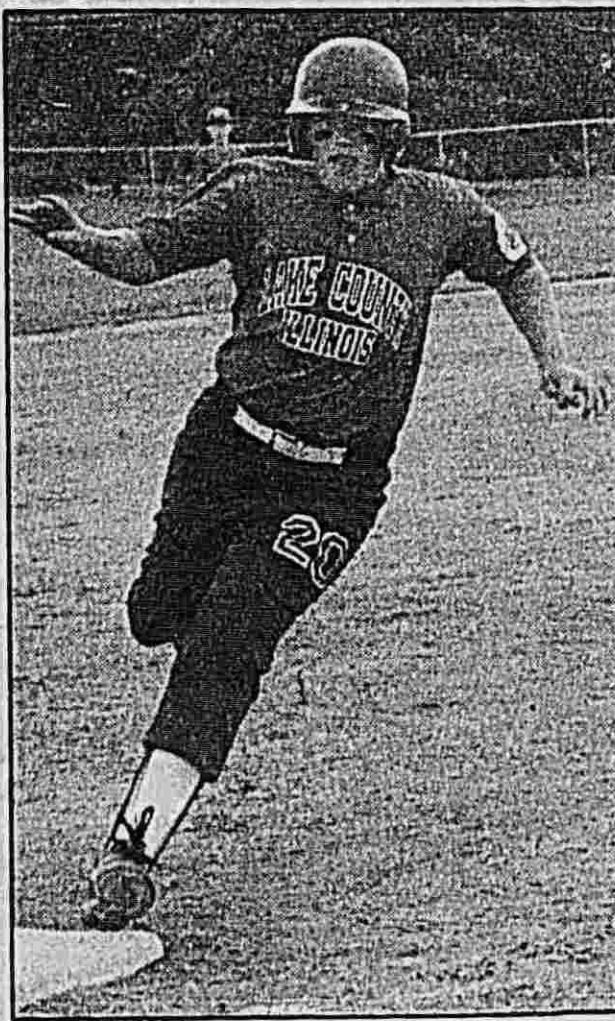

The excitement of 30 minutes continued into the next game as the Chiefs sought an opportunity for the national championship the next day. But Little Rock scored five runs in the sixth inning.

"You guys never quit. You have a lot to be proud of. This is the best team I have ever coached. There should be no excuses," Chiefs manager Art Mansavage said.

The Chiefs were somewhat out of their element in the Little Rock game, not helped by a call at third base in which the third baseman may have forced an Indian runner to step on his foot or by umpires who wanted to hurry the game along when all was on the line.

The Chiefs looked like they were going to pull off their third win at the same diamond. With Collins moving down the Little Rock Royals, the Chiefs held a 1-0 lead. Mac Mansavage and Collins singled for the run in the first inning.

It took heads-up defense to prevent the Royals from tying the game in the second. Second baseman Nate Alden, the leading hitter for the tournament, and first baseman Wesley Peete threw out a runner going from first to second base before a runner from third base could score.

The Chiefs had two runners on in the second and third innings, but could not score, and that proved to be critical.

Little Rock reached Collins for a run in the fourth inning after the lead reached 3-1.

They come from as far north as Gurnee and Waukegan and as far south as Riverwoods, this group called the Lake County Chiefs.

The baseball squad of 11-year-olds made a name for itself and then some as the squad finished fourth in the nation. There was still the matter of a league tournament and one at Thielens Stadium to take care of, but Manager Art Mansavage took time to reflect on the contributions of each player on the team which went 5-2 at the national tourney.

Nate Alden (Park City): "He had an on-base percentage of .737 and you cannot ask more than that from a lead-off hitter. He is a great team leader."

Joe Ratliff (Waukegan): "He is a good, steady hitter, batting third."

Walt Hinson (Waukegan): "He had a .444 on-base percentage (through five tourney games) and hits .375. He has really improved."

Clark Collins (Waukegan): "Through five games, he had a batting average of only .071, but an on-base average of .579. He rockets the ball."

Wesley Peete (Waukegan): "He is a great defensive player and pitcher. He hits in the sixth spot and he can hit it. I don't know how many times he has led off an inning with a hit."

Anthony DiClementi (Deerfield): "He has been with us for two years. He is a starter last year and does a terrific job. He is getting more and more confident."

Dustin Dobslaf (Deerfield): "He is a great baseball pitcher. It is amazing what he has accomplished."

Nester Toro (Gurnee): "He is a different type of player. Nester makes things happen. He is a gamer."

John Glatt (Riverwoods): "He is one of the best players in the in-house league."

Jason Baker (Green Oaks): "We have him for defense and to give Mac (Mansavage) a break catching. He has a good, positive attitude."

Ronney Wright (Great Lakes): "We will be losing Ronney because his father is being transferred to Michigan, but he has great potential."

Best, rest determined in 3 on 3 Summer Jam

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

If it may have been difficult to decipher the names of some of the winners — CMB and Three Men and a Boo — but it wasn't hard to see the talent and competitiveness during the 3 on 3 Summer Jam at the College of Lake County last Saturday.

The fourth annual basketball tournament — co-sponsored by the College of Lake County and Lakeland Newspapers — featured 24 teams in three double-elimination divisions. CLC's athletic department will benefit from the proceeds.

"I think the competition was very good — probably the best it's been so far," said Bob Schroeder, Lakeland circulation manager and co-organizer of the event with Lakeland's Elizabeth Ebert.

"It was very much a success," Schroeder continued. "I think all the players enjoyed the competition level, too. There was a lot of fan support, which was good to see."

Teams were placed in three divisions according to experience level. Games were played to 15 baskets, but the winner had to be up by two buckets. All three title teams went through five games without a loss.

CMB — Ricky Doby, Lewis Reams and Maurice Jordan — was the Division A champ. CMB beat MHS '82 22-20 in the championship contest.

Division B was won by Three Men and a Boo — Jerry Anderfuren, Mark Goodman, Roy Gilmore and Eddie White. They topped the Warriors 24-22 in the finale.

Dan Pongetti's team — Brian Wayer, Mike Conrad, Matt Frank and Pongetti, himself — captured Division C by beating the Leapers 15-11 in the championship.

Schroeder said he plans to concentrate on soliciting more teams — especially women and youth — for next year.

"If it keeps growing, maybe we'll go to two days next year," Schroeder said.

Miller sharing celebration

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Diane Miller will celebrate a decade as the pro at Renwood Country Club by sharing her expertise with the public Sunday, Aug. 15.

A Libertyville High School and University of Illinois standout, Miller was the first woman accepted into the Professional Golfers Association in Illinois.

As an Illini, she twice earned a berth in the NCAA tournament, finishing as high as 12th in the nation. Miller competed in the U.S. Open in 1983.

Miller, who worked as the assistant pro at several other courses before coming to Renwood, said she would trade her situation.

"It's a wonderful job," she said. "It's the dream job."

Miller will offer free clinics on putting (1:30 to 2:15 p.m.) and chipping (2:30 to 3:15) Aug. 15. She'll be at the driving range from 11 a.m. until noon and again from 3:30 to 4:30.

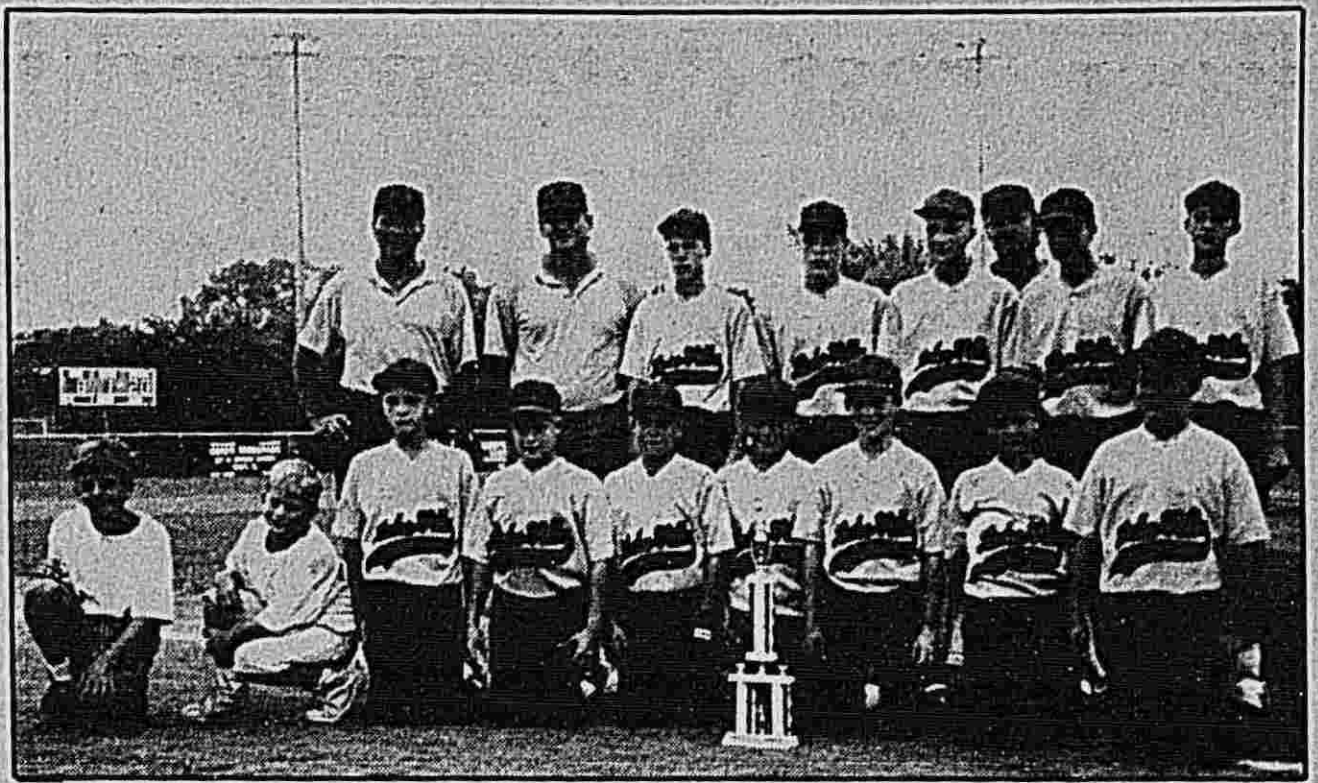

Tips at the driving range will be on an informal basis.

"I'll just be chatting with people," Miller said. "If they want a tip or two, they can have them."

Miller said the most satisfying part of her job is showing someone it can be done.

"It's when I can get someone who said they'd never get the ball up off the ground to hit it in the air."

In addition to her duties as a teaching professional, Miller manages the course for the Round Lake Area Park District.

LV Broncos second at state

Lake Villa Township Little League's Bronco traveling team won its league and advanced to a second-place finish at the state American Athletic Baseball Congress tourney in Joliet.

A first-place finish in the Mike's Memorial League (22-2) qualified the travelers for the AABC tourney. Participating in the North Suburban League and tournament play, Lake Villa compiled a 43-11 mark.

Behind the solid pitching of Brandon Marchildon and timely hitting by Brett McCollum, Mike Zorich and Brett Cromeans, the team beat L.J. Currency of Joliet 11-3. The team then dropped a 6-3 decision to Cherry Bowl Blasters of Rockford.

The travelers battled back and beat Winthrop Harbor 13-4 and Moran of Joliet 14-8. Key base hits in these games came from John Bestler, Ryan Davis, Dan

Anthony DiClementi tripled, scoring Peete, who reached on an error. Mansavage recorded his second hit of the game with a single in the fifth and scored on a fielder's choice.

The Chiefs knew the fourth inning would be Collins' last on the mound as he used up his allotted innings. But six outs away from the improbable national championship bid, midnight struck.

Little Rock, a dynasty team which had won 250 of its last 253 games and the last two AAU titles, struck for five runs off Peete for a 6-3 lead.

The Chiefs did not fold the teepees.

Ron Wright walked with one out. Alden tripled and Mansavage singled, and the Chiefs were just down by one run.

Mansavage was forced at second base to end the tournament.

The Chiefs were a dejected bunch then — but 11-year-olds being 11-year-olds — they were quickly back playing video games at the hotel, watching tapes of a memorable tournament, eating pizza and waiting for their medals the next day.

Take note

song was heard throughout the five fields. Chiefs fans had a way of stopping that by saying their team's name at the right place. Chiefs fans are probably still whistling to the Iowans' tune "Walk of Life," another favorite.

Best break-up of a double play: to the Chiefs' Ron Wright, who broke up a key double-play bid by Little Rock.

Best clutch run to first base: to Peete, who outran the throw to first in the sixth inning against West Des Moines, allowing Joe Ratliff to score the tying run.

Best cheerleaders: to the Chiefs' Ashley Alden, Stephanie Collins, Lyndsey Baker and Mandy Mansavage. In addition to cheering, they did a rendition of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame."

As for yours truly, the tourney provided a chance to think, for a moment at least, as the team's scorekeeper. I put in probably the shortest stint in baseball history when Joe Ratliff Sr., had to call in a score or two. "Peete, (Anthony) Di Clementi, (Dustin) Dobsiaf," I called out. Ratliff was making his way back to the dugout by then, the pressure off.

Knights gear up for season opening contest at DuPage

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Offense was outlaid Sunday at Butler Lake Park in Libertyville.

Both the St. Louis Outlaws and the Lake County Knights struggled on offense during this preseason game. St. Louis won its third straight exhibition game while the Knights dropped to 2-2 with a 10-0 St. Louis win.

The Knights coaching staff liked the way the game ended as the home team started to drive the football.

"They started to come together in the fourth quarter. We did not have any continuity with the two quarterbacks," Knights coach Tom Nelson said.

The Knights used the two-heads-are-better-than-one theory at QB as LaMont Billings shared time with Matt Wickline.

The season starts for real when the Knights travel to Elmhurst to battle DuPage Aug. 15 at 1 p.m. at Immaculate Conception High in Elmhurst.

The visiting Outlaws, pinch-hitting for the Renegades, scored first when Gordon Bell intercepted a Billings pass deep in Knights territory and ran it 10 yards for a touchdown. The extra point gave the visitors a 7-0 lead two minutes into the second quarter.

Kevin Marble accounted for the other points in the game, booting a 32-yarder with three minutes left.

The Knights defense turned in its third straight intimidating effort. Bone-crunching tackles were made in the open field by Craig Freeman and Dale Jackson. Eric Disch recorded two quarterback sacks, one with the help of Tony Simpson.

"I am not worried about the defense. Freeman and Jackson have improved quite a bit. The defense is improving on hitting and jarring the ball loose," Nelson said.

The Outlaws, guided by the brother tandem of QB Gary Reedus and running back Erick Reedus, moved the ball to the Knights' 11-yard line in the third quarter. But an incomplete pass and a personal foul on St. Louis forced a 35-yard field goal try, which missed.

"The defense played well, but we have to be more consistent on offense," St. Louis coach Lee Brown said.

Knights notebook: Nelson said he is waiting to hear from some Lake County High Schools about a home field. If one cannot be secured, the Knights will be back at Butler Lake Park Aug. 22 against Palos Heights. The loss broke a two-game winning streak.

Vikes offense, defense on all cylinders in preseason

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

There is nothing quite like scoring 38 points to bolster a team's confidence in its offense. And having two weeks to celebrate in a perfect 3-0 preseason is always beneficial to the overall psyche.

That is the position the Lake County Vikings find themselves in after a 38-12 trouncing of Chicago Thunder at Round Lake High Saturday.

Jon Schoemaker quarterbacked the Vikings to 300 yards plus through the air, starting the strong night on offense with a 7-for-9 first half.

"I think it is a great confidence builder.

Seventy percent of these guys have never played semi-pro football," Vikes head coach Julian Tucker said.

The Vikes open the season for real at Round Lake High Aug. 21 against the Chicago Falcons. The 7 p.m. start was originally listed as an away game.

"Jon is a hard-nosed kid who is very demanding of himself," Tucker said of Schoemaker.

Schoemaker completed a 14-yard TD to Rick Starosta and a 74-yard TD pass to Frank Ruiz. Workhorse Chris Tavajian scored the game's first touchdown from three yards out and another from 12 yards away. Tom Vergis kicked two field goals and Cary Haith continued his habit of breaking away for long TD's, as he rambled for 80 yards.

"We have been working with a limited playbook. It has been, 'our 11 vs. your 11 and so far we have come out on top,'" Tucker said.

At least one veteran Viking is upbeat about the season.

"This is the first season we have entered without any injuries," Starosta said.

Tucker, who played nine seasons at Dallas and Denver, described the backfield as one "by committee. We do not have one guy who stands out," he said.

There is Tavajian, AKA "the load" at (6-feet, 250 pounds) who can dish out pain as well as any lineman; Mike Rivera; Chuck Foij; Haith and Scott Wesloek

Making the holes open wide are linemen Dan McDermott (6-4, 260); Dan Peters (6-7, 250); Gary Higgenbottom (6-4, 270) and center Nick Mastanre.

"They have a tendency to be younger and faster," Tucker said.

The defense has always been a strength and in the first three games it is led by Paul Klapps (6-1, 245) and Bill DePeye (6-3, 240) lead the charge.

Then there is Erick Glover. "We know he is going to be consistent. We call him the grandfather of the team," Tucker said.

Jim Lanahan and Jim Kolzio man the linebackers spots. None of the three opponents have had much of the passing game.

"That is a tribute to the people up front and we have two veterans in the secondary in Scooter Barnes and Butch Tierney," Tucker said.

Crane wants action on postmaster scandal

Once again, the nation has been handed another example of corruption by members of the U.S. House of Representatives, and another example of an attempt to cover up the details of the corruption by the House leadership.

As Lord Acton said, "Power tends to corrupt and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Is it really any wonder that corruption would continually cast its shadow over a body which has been ruled without break for 40 years by the same political party?

The Republicans last controlled the House in 1954 during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Since then, Democrats have ruled the House, sometimes with overwhelming majorities such as now when Democrat members total 258 compared to 176 Republicans, and one Independent who has allied himself with the Democrats' leadership.

The latest scandal was touched off when former House Postmaster Robert Rota confessed to illegally giving certain

From The Capital

US Cong. Philip M. Crane (R)

House members money in exchange for expense vouchers and stamps.

It is estimated that "tens of thousands" of dollars may have found their way illegally into the pockets of members of the House.

Justice Department court papers noted that in Rota's guilty plea he confessed to turning over taxpayer dollars to two House members identified only as "Congressman A" and "Congressman B," but dates provided pointed directly at two Democrats in the House.

The House conducted an investigation into the post office scandal last year, but the results of the probe have been kept under wraps and have yet to be made public, despite demands to that effect by Republican members. Rota resigned as postmaster at the time of last year's investigation.

I voted that the records be made public this summer after the Rota plea of guilty to three counts of embezzlement and aiding and abetting an illegal scheme to convert congressional expense vouchers and stamps into cash for several member of the House during his 20 years as postmaster.

The House Democratic leadership successfully blocked publication of the report this year, as it had last year. The leadership claimed the U.S. attorney handling the case for the Clinton Administration asked that the report not be released.

Last year, a different U.S. attorney handling the Justice Department investigation into the House Post Office operation for the Bush Administration made the same request. At that time, I also voted along with most House Republicans to publish the report. The House Democratic leadership, however, was successful in blocking public disclosure of the investigation conducted with taxpayer dollars.

Those who would shroud the illegal workings on the patronage run House post office have again succeeded in covering up the probe.

This is the third coverup, that we know of, of illegal conduct by the House postmaster. In its summary of evidence, the Justice Department charged that Rota took part in a "successful coverup" as far back as 1980, when Justice Department lawyers questioned him and the House post office supervisor of accounts. At that time, another employee reported a cash-for-vouchers exchange.

That coverup was never revealed by the House Democratic leadership to House Republican leaders or members.

The leadership, you will recall, also attempted to cover up the patronage run House Bank scandal of 1992 in which 8,331 rubber checks were bounced by House members in their accounts at the House Bank in a 12-month period.

Unyielding Republican members of the House were successful in their battle to gain publication of the names of those guilty of kiting checks. As a result, there was a large turnover in the ranks of members of the House after the 1992 elections.

Three House Republican members are former prosecutors, and they have assured us that any corruption case against members of the House will not be jeopardized by releasing the findings of the House probe.

Democrats, with their overwhelming majority of 82 members (258 to 176 Republicans) kept the seal on the records.

We've gone through Abscam when seven Democratic members of Congress (including two powerful committee-chairmen) were convicted of taking bribes. And we've seen the resignation of a Democrat House Speaker and a Democrat House Whip following disclosures of unethical, and possibly illegal, practices.

For 40 years the Democrats have controlled the House. One can only wonder if other scandals have been kept secret by iron-fisted control of the House of Democrats.

Unemployment

26.2 percent of the 134 residents unemployed.

North Chicago comes in second with an unemployment rate of 8.1 percent. Round Lake Park, Round Lake Heights, and Zion follow North Chicago.

Antioch, nevertheless, scored much better in the percentage of persons in poverty. Heading up the list of the most individuals in poverty was Hainesville again with a whopping 17 percent. North Chicago follows with a 14.9 percent. Bannockburn had a surprising 14.4 percent poverty rate.

Antioch ended up with a 4.8 percent poverty rate. The county average was 5.2 percent.

These results were published in "The Other Lake County," which was a look at the effect the Fox Riverboat Project would have on the areas economy.

Pom-pons

Chicago Bears football game on Saturday Aug. 14.

Other All-Pro members who will dance at the football game are Jaime Prorok, Heather Cramond, Melissa Hague, June Lubkeman, Rebecca Masucci, and Elizabeth Sobczak, all from ACHS.

All-Star members chosen to perform at Walt Disney World in Florida during the Thanksgiving weekend, include Jaime Prorok, Rebecca Masucci, and Elizabeth Sobczak.

The Antioch High School Pom-pon squads have been cited in the past for winning competitions.

During Crank's sophomore and junior year at the school, the teams traveled to Whitewater, Wisc. to the Badgerette Camp in which they took first place for the "street dance" event, qualifying them to go on to the Midwest Competition in Arlington Heights.

Also, the student noted that during her sophomore year, the ACHS seniors won first place for the "kick line routine" at the Badgerette Camp.

Your child's crossed eyes may cause permanent damage if not treated!

CROSSED EYES and other eye misalignments do not usually correct themselves. By the time a child is seven years old the vision damage they cause can become permanent.

Eye misalignments can be corrected as soon as a child is six months old. The earlier the correction, the more time there is for normal vision to develop.

If your child's eyes are misaligned, have them examined by Dr. Alan Chow, our children's eye specialists.

SEAL OUT TOOTH DECAY ONCE AND FOR ALL!

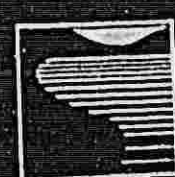

A sealant is a clear or tooth colored plastic material that is painlessly applied to the chewing surfaces of the back teeth, where decay occurs most often.

Children receive the greatest benefit from having sealants applied to their permanent teeth as they erupt. Most parents immunize their children to protect against childhood diseases. The best protection against the disease they will fight forever (tooth decay) is sealants. Adults can also benefit by having sealants applied to teeth which have never been filled.

You can prevent 98% of tooth decay on the chewing surface of the tooth.

Gentle Treatment by Caring Professionals

Optimal tooth decay protection includes sealants and routine topical fluoride application for erupted teeth and adequate fluoride intake for developing teeth.

If you have been using bottled water, certain water filtration systems or private well water, your child may not be getting the fluoride intake necessary for developing strong teeth, and supplements may be indicated. Our office now offers free water fluoride checks which can evaluate the level of fluoride in your drinking water.

Should you want more information or an appointment, please call us today. Our staff will be happy to assist you.

Farrell elected to Orton post

Grant Farrell, Antioch, President of the Illinois branch of The Orton Dyslexia Society, has been elected to a post on the international level.

The Orton Dyslexia Society is an international, nonprofit organization with approximately 9,000 members committed to the advancement of the study and effective remediation of dyslexia, a learning disability that affects approximately 12 million Americans.

Farrell, 41, will begin serving as Branch Council Chair-Elect in June while finishing his second term as Illinois Branch President. In 1994 he will begin a two-year term as Branch Council Chair, overseeing the responsibilities of the 43 Branches, and chairing their bi-annual meetings. He will also serve on the International Board of Directors, attend their bi-annual meetings, and serve on several Board committees.

Diagnosed as dyslexic at age 31, Farrell has been involved in The Orton Dyslexia Society for the past eight years. As Branch President he spends approximately 20 hours per week promoting membership and organizing and participating in a variety of educational workshops for parents, teachers and dyslexics.

During his two terms as Branch President he has increased membership from 350 to 450 in the Illinois Branch, and has increased funding for the Branch by 600 percent.
